

MOTHER RELATES SHOCKING STORY

Laura L. Guffey Admits She Sold Her Seventeen-Year-Old Daughter to White Slave Traffic.

GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE

Small Fine Assessed in Police Court
So She Could be Held Until More Serious Charge is Filed.

As a result of the shocking admissions of Mrs. Laura L. Guffey who reluctantly told the officials of the police court that she had not only encouraged the delinquency of her own daughter, aged seventeen years, but had sold her into the white slave traffic, a thorough investigation of the case will be made by the grand jury when it convenes March 9. Prosecuting Attorney Underwood and Deputy Prosecutor Wesner have taken an active interest in the case and it is expected that quite a number of men who are alleged to have contributed to the downfall of the girl will be subpoenaed to appear before the next grand jury. Chief of Police McCord has already obtained a large list of names, it is reported, and his investigation is not yet completed.

Mrs. Guffey was arraigned in police court Thursday night upon a charge of keeping a house of bad repute and pleaded guilty to the offense. It is understood that the prosecuting attorney desires to have the grand jury investigate her part towards contributing to the delinquency of the girl and it is expected that an indictment will be returned. Sufficient evidence has been secured, it said, to send the woman to the women's prison for a term of several years.

Upon the recommendation of the prosecutor's office, Mayor Ross withheld sentence until this morning when he assessed a fine of $20 and costs. As the woman had no money she will be held in the county jail for thirty days. In the meantime other charges will be investigated.

Court officials were astounded by the admission of the Guffey woman. At first she denied that she had contributed to the delinquency of her own daughter but when confronted with facts the police had gathered she admitted that she was guilty to graver offenses than that placed against her. In a voice that was hardly audible and with her eyes cast towards the floor the woman answered the questions put to her by Mayor Ross and the deputy prosecutor.

The defendant admitted that for several months she had led her daughter through the channels of vice to the underworld. Many of the acts she mentioned were of the most revolting character yet she said she knew and even encouraged her daughter in her downward path. Many names were mentioned in the police court by the defendant and her story was the same as told by her to Chief of Police McCord shortly after her arrest. These names were verified and are in possession of the prosecuting attorney.

The attention of the board of children's guardians has been called to the case and the members have been asked to look after the other children while the mother is serving her fine in jail. Evidence has been collected to show that the home has always been neglected yet the Guffey woman asked that her children be cared for as she was leaving for the county jail.

This morning a little boy, aged twelve years, was seen wading through the snow towards the city jail. His shoes afforded little protection from the cold and his clothing was torn. As he made his way slowly through the snow he was seen by several persons whose attention was attracted by his sobbing. When asked who he was he said that he was the son of the Guffey woman and wanted to see his mother. He was placed in the care of Chief of Police McCord who took him to the office of the police station. The little fellow said he had had no supper nor breakfast and was hungry.

Mayor Ross attempted to get in communication with Charles Steinwedel, township trustee, but he was out of the city. However, the child was given his breakfast and Mayor Ross stated he would see that he was cared for. Persons around the police station were deeply touched by the story of privation and want told by the boy.

The Guffey woman told the police she left three children at home. The youngest was five years of age, the second child was six years of age and the oldest was twelve years old. Arrangements will be made to care for the neglected children while the mother is away.

The oldest daughter, who was taken to Brownstown this morning, was bound over to juvenile court on a charge of delinquency. An effort will be made to send her to the Indiana Girls' School where she will receive more wholesome training.

FORMER COMMISSIONER HAS ATTACK OF HEART TROUBLE

John Downing is Stricken While Talking to Friends, But is Not in Serious Condition.

John Downing, a former commissioner of Jackson county, was stricken with heart trouble this morning while conversing with several friends at the corner of Chestnut street and Cincinnati avenue. The attack came suddenly and he stumbled backwards and fell without giving a word of warning. Several persons saw him fall and rushed to his assistance.

Dr. L. B. Hill was called and ordered that Mr. Downing be removed to the city building where he would be better protected from the cold. Bystanders carried him into the corridor of the building and the physician gave him medical attention. He regained consciousness in about thirty minutes and was taken to his home in a cab. He has suffered some with his heart but this is the first attack he has experienced for some time.

Stockholders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Seymour Improvement Company will be held in the City building, Monday March 2nd, 1914, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of electing seven directors and attending to such other business as may come up. All stock checks will be given out for the annual dividend.

f28d Clark B. Davis, Sec.

M. E. Choir.

The choir will practice tonight at the parsonage.

Seymour Business College Phone 403

Republican Want Ads. Pay.

GIVEN IMPORTANT
PLACE ON PROGRAM

T. A. Mott, Superintendent of Local Schools, Speaks at National Educational Meeting.

IN SESSION AT RICHMOND, VA.

Presents Arguments Against Teaching Pure Sex Hygiene in the Public Schools.

T. A. Mott, superintendent of the Seymour public schools, who is attending the convention of the National Education Association at Richmond, Va., this week, delivered one of the principal addresses at an important session of the National Council of Education. Attending the session were many of the prominent educators of the United States.

More than two thousand educators are attending the convention at which meetings of the various divisions are held. Important questions dealing with the educational system of this country have been discussed by school authorities.

The session of the National Council at which Superintendent Mott gave his address discussed the problem of teaching sex hygiene in the schools. He declared that this subject should not be taught in the school room, but that the teachers of literature and domestic science should impress their pupils with the sacredness of motherhood and the purity of the home. The Richmond newspapers quoted Mr. Mott's address freely and characterized it as one of the best given at the convention.

In part he said: "The race reproduces itself each fifty years. Statistics show conclusively that more than one-third of the children in this country fail to reach a healthy maturity. Every student of child-life and every agency of education must recognize these facts, and the importance of the subject of hygiene, or, better, race-hygiene.

"Our instruction in race-hygiene must consist of much more than a knowledge of hygiene and the laws of biology. It must seek to develop in the children a spirit of altruism and an idealism in the realm of parent-hood and child life. A true reverence for motherhood and a deep love for little children will do more to insure noble, pure living among our youth than the fear of the ravages of disease which follow in the wake of immoral social practices.

"It is something for the child to know at the right time some of the important facts relating to his development into manhood; it is something for the child to know the chief dangers that confront him during the unfolding of his sexual powers, but this movement in the schools must mean more than this. The problem includes the development of right attitudes of mind, of high ideals and ethical standards of life, respect for the social standards and conventions of society, and appreciation of the sanctity of the home, the sacredness of motherhood and the love of little children. Everything in the school curriculum that leads in this direction.

(Continued on page 3, column 1)

ASSESSORS READY TO BEGIN ON WORK

Final Instructions Were Given Deputies Thursday by County Assessor Branaman.

MANY ARTICLES SPECIFIED

Notes and Mortgages Will be Taken at Three-fourths Their Value—Assessing of Stock.

The township assessors and their deputies are ready to begin work Monday, the necessary supplies having been distributed at the meeting at Brownstown Thursday. All of the assessors were present and received instructions how to proceed with the task which must be completed with seventy-five days.

Schedules concerning the taxation of all classes of property were prepared by County Assessor James Branaman and these were placed in the hands of the men who do the work. According to this schedule all property will be assessed at full value and a certain per cent. will then be deducted. The per cent. varies according to the various kinds of property.

Notes and mortgages will be taken for three-fourths of their face value. Goods and merchandise, merchandise held on consignment, manufactured articles on hands and manufacturing tools implements and machinery, other than engines and boilers, will be taken at the same ratio.

The schedule also states how certain articles shall be assessed. Chickens will be taken at $3 per dozen and turkeys at $6 per dozen. Bricks, stone and other building material will be assessed at $3 per thousand feet, cement at $1 per barrel, cash registers at seventy-five per cent. of the full value, pianos at $50 and up and sewing machines at $2 and upward. Horses, mules and cattle will be assessed at seventy-five per cent. of their value. Cattle three years and over that are fat and in good condition will be taken at five cents per pound. Stock cattle will be taken at four cents per pound and sheep at $1 per head and upward.

The schedule shows that hogs will be assessed at six cents per pound and bees at $1 per stand. Wood will be taken at 75 cents and $1 per cord, and coal at $2 per ton and upward. Other schedules are: wheat, 70 cents per bushel; corn, 40 cents per bushel; oats 30 cents per bushel; potatoes 50 cents per bushel; grass and clover seed, $4.50 per ton; flax and cowpeas, $1.60 per bushel; hay, $10 per ton; straw, $3 per ton; bacon, ten cents per pound; lard, 10 cents per pound; sorghum and maple molasses, 40 cents per gallon; lumber and building material $1 and upward; silage $5 per ton; scales, $5 and upward; ice $2 per ton.

Instructions were given the deputy assessors to make the assessments as nearly uniform as possible and for this reason the various articles were specified. The schedule, of course, contains many other articles which will be assessed in the regular method. The plan to be followed in this county was suggested by the state board of tax commissioners and will be in operation in practically all of the counties of the state.

G. F. Pomeroy, of this city, is the township assessor and has appointed five deputies. He has divided the city into four assessing precincts and assigned one deputy to each division. Giles Manual will have the first, Ed Jennings, the second, George Cook, the third and Taylor Godfrey, the fourth. Adam Maschino, who lives near Farmington, will make the assessments in the township outside of the city.

I. N. G. DETAIL SENT AFTER MEMBER WHO WAS ABSENT

Rules and Regulations Require Members to Attend Drills Regularly
Each Week.

The regular routine of drill of the local Indiana National Guard Thursday night was interrupted long enough for a detail to get a delinquent member who had failed to attend drill and observe orders. Each member is required to attend at least one weekly drill for which he is paid and to observe all orders issued by the company commander.

The private sent after was seen in the vicinity of the armory by the First Sergeant and ordered to come and attend a drill. When the order was given he ran and the detail was instructed to follow him. He was arrested and brought before the captain and asked to give reason for his failure to attend the practice. He was unable to do this to the satisfaction of the officer and he was then instructed regarding the punishment for failure to observe orders. If any member fails to attend drill he is guilty of insubordination.

A delinquent member can be held five days during which a summary court martial must be held to determine and assess the penalty which may be a dishonorable discharge and a fine. The orders and regulations prescribed for the conduct of the I. N. G. will be rigidly enforced hereafter unless a sufficient excuse can be given by the members failing to attend practice drill.

BASKET BALL GAME WITH NORTH VERNON CANCELLED

Local Team Has Been Unable To Practice On Account Of Illness
Of Several Of Players.

Because of the illness of several members of the basket ball team of the Shields high school the game scheduled with the North Vernon team tonight has been cancelled. The local players were unable to practice during the last few days in preparation of the contest, and it was decided best to play the game at some other date.

The North Vernon team is one of the strongest in the southern part of the state and the local team anticipates a strenuous contest. The lineup would have been greatly weakened by the absence of several of the strongest players and the contest would not have been a test of actual strength. The game will be played at the first open date.

Notice to Court of Honor.

Social and luncheon for members and their friends Friday night at Court of Honor Hall. 10c.

A. P. Carter, Recorder.

Baptist Choir.

The choir of the First Baptist Church will meet at the church Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Scrapple Roll 10c. All Grocers.

PERMANENT ROADS
UNDER DISCUSSION

Meeting Held This Afternoon to Consider Petitions For Concrete Highways.

ARGUMENTS ARE PRESENTED

Effort Made to Reach Agreement so as to Avoid Expense of a Special Election.

In the hope of reaching a satisfactory agreement relative to the proposed construction of the new concrete roads in Jackson township and thus avoid the expense of an election, a meeting was held at the city building this afternoon. It was well attended by farmers, merchants and others who have an interest in the proposed plan.

Those opposed to the construction of the roads held a preliminary conference this morning and a general meeting was called for this afternoon. The principal objection against the new roads was the heavy expense and it was proposed that the distance be reduced so that the cost would not be so heavy. Several of those favorable to the petitions said they would consent to this plan even though the shorter roads would not extend to their farms.

Dr. J. M. Shields said that if as much attention had been given to the gravel roads as to the discussion proposed and for the concrete roads the highways of the township would be in much better condition. He recalled that although there is a law against hauling heavy loads over the highways when the ground is thawing the regulation is given little consideration with the result that they are in bad condition. He also stated that the roads in this township were not seriously damaged by the last flood. Quite a number of those opposed to the roads and also those in favor of the petitions were present and gave their ideas regarding the plan. T. S. Blish, president of the good roads committee of the Commercial Club presided at the meeting.

The petitions will be taken up by the county commissioners at their regular March meeting. It has been proposed that the commissioners call an election and allow the question to be decided by the people. The petitioners, however, claim that they did not sign the petitions anticipating an election and object now to this plan for if the proposition is lost the cost of such election would fall upon them.

Various arguments have been presented in favor and against the petition and it is expected that some agreement will be reached before the meeting adjourns.

Amendment Killed.
By United Press

Washington, February 27—The Senate today killed the amendment taking from the postmaster general the right to fix rates, weights and zones in the parcel post system.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baldwin went to Vallonia this morning to take possession of the restaurant they recently purchased.

Mush Roll 5c. All Grocers. m25d

For Saturday

Lettuce, lb.	20c
Celery, bunch	.5 and 10c
Grape Fruit, each	.5c
Oranges, each	.20-25-30c
Onions, lb.	.5c
Radishes, 3 bunches for	.10c
Green Onions, bunch	.5c
Cocoanuts, each	.10c
Cabbage, lb.	.3c
Cranberries, quart	.15c
Turnips, peck	.40c
Shoulders, lb.	.13c
Radishes, peck	.40c
Holland Herring, 2 for	.5c
White Fish, lb.	.6c
Ben Davis Apples, peck	.30c
Prunes, 3 lbs. for	.25c
Peaches, 3 lbs. for	.25c

HOADLEY'S

DREAMLAND
TONIGHT"The Runaway Princess"

THREE REEL SPECIAL
THIS IS $5 Night
Come and don't forget to bring your duplicates
Mat. Saturday Afternoon 2:30 to 4:30 p. m.

We Buy Or Sell Anything
Stocks Bonds
Realty Merchandise
C. E. T. DOBBINS
& CO.
GENERAL BROKERS

Always In Contemplation

by the girl is the Ring—the inevitable engagement Ring! We can supply all the girls expecting to be engaged with handsome Rings for the purpose, and we have a large variety of other Rings as well, also a goodly assortment of Fine Jewelry that will be appreciated by good judges, of both sexes. If thinking of a Jewelry present—here is the place to get it.

T. M. JACKSON, Jeweler.
GEO. F. KAMMAN, Optometrist

MAYES' MAJESTIC
TONIGHT

"SOUTHERN AND WOODRUFF"
Comedy Singing, Talking and Dancing
(A) & (B) "UNTO THE THIRD & FOURTH GENERATION" Drama
(Selig) Parts 1 and 2 with Chas. Clary, Mabel Van Buren, Frank Clark and Henry Otto.

(C) "THE HUSBAND'S EXPERIMENT" Drama (Biograph) with Gertrude Robinson, Robert Drouet and Charles Perley.

March 4th will be the date of "THE GIRL OF MY DREAMS" instead of March 5th. Seat sale opens Saturday A. M. at Carter's Drug Store.

Prices—Lower Floor 10c. Balcony 5c
Special Matinee Saturday from 2:30 to 4 P. M.

DON'T FORGET THIS IS $5 GOLD PIECE NIGHT.

H. H. CARTER
Successor to The Andrews Drug Co.

The Rexall Store

INSISTS HE IS CURED OF DREAD TUBERCULOSIS

Frank Ludwig, of 1217 McDougal street, Indianapolis, Ind., looks well, feels fine, works hard every day and is one of the happiest men in Christendom. He says he has proved conclusively that tuberculosis can be cured. Just note the following statements from Mr. Ludwig, and if you are interested in the cure and prevention of tuberculosis and asthma, write M. L. Haymann, 417 State Life Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind., for free booklet.

In February, 1910, he began taking the home treatment, Nature's Creation, and in a short time, to the surprise of all who knew him, all symptoms of tuberculosis left. On November 27, 1911, Mr. Ludwig stated that he had not taken any medicine for almost a year and felt fine, gaining in every way.

On February 1, 1913, three years after he had begun taking Nature's Creation, the following statement was given by Mr. Ludwig for publication: "I could not feel a bit better than I do at the present time. It's really wonderful that I am feeling so good, when you take into consideration the condition I was in three years ago and the amount of work I am doing now. I am working every day, and some nights. I haven't lost a day's work from sickness since I took Nature's Creation." Frank Ludwig, 1217 McDougal Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

On November 29, 1913, Mr. Ludwig stated that he was feeling fine and working every day. Nature's Creation is now recognized as the standard remedy for tuberculosis and the conditions which lead to it, such as asthma, bronchitis, impure blood and run-down system. What it has done for others is told in the booklet being distributed free of charge by M. L. Haymann, 417 State Life Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind. The booklet contains photos and testimonials from some of your friends and neighbors, and you should write to-day for a copy.

Special Prices Ladies' and Men's SHOES

$5.00 Shoes	$3.98
$4.50 Shoes	$3.49
$4.00 Shoes	$3.29
$3.50 Shoes	$2.89
$3.00 Shoes	$2.29
$2.50 Shoes	$1.98
$2.00 Shoes	$1.49

Take Advantage of These Prices.
Big Bargains in Rubbers.

P. COLABUONO

A Velvetina Complexion

IS SIMPLY PERFECTION

The Three Wonders

VELVETINA Vanishing Cream
MASSAGE CREAM
FACE POWDER

The Velvetina Products are endorsed by 100 of Seymour's leading ladies

For Sale at

Rucker's Drug Store
Opposite Interurban Station. Phone 789

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold seal boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon.
Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHICHESTER'S
DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

"Will Go on Your Bond"

Will write any kind of

INSURANCE

CLARK B. DAVIS

LOANS NOTARY

THOS. J. CLARK

Fire, Accident and Tornado

INSURANCE

SURETY BONDS

Opera House Block, Seymour, Ind.

HOW THE MEXICANS VIEW THE SITUATION

Public Gave No Evidence of Excitement When Embargo on Arms Was Lifted by U. S. President.

HUERTA HAD NOTHING TO SAY

When News Was Received Newspaper Men Started Search and Found Him in a Cafe.

By United Press.

Mexico City, February 27.—The Mexicans in the capital took President Wilson's act of raising the embargo in their characteristic way. That is, they didn't do what they were expected to do. While the news came as a bombshell to the government officials, the public seemed to be in no way excited by the fact that Washington had, in a manner of speaking, decided to give assistance to Carranza and the rebels all the war munitions they could use.

"Trust the Mexicans to do the unexpected thing," say American old-timers here. And, in this instance, the Mexicans followed the rule. Americans really expected them to do something; to riot or insult Americans on the streets. On the evening of the day that the news reached the capital, the American Club was deserted; Americans were sticking to their homes. But the evening passed without event and the next day, though the newspapers, under big headlines, scored the Americans and President Wilson, Americans who ventured on the streets saw no indication of ill feeling.

Then the word went around among the Americans in the colony that the Mexican people in the capital were mostly in favor of Carranza, and that instead of blaming Americans for aiding the rebels, they were delighted with President Wilson's assistance.

Within a few days it became apparent to Americans that this was true; the average Mexican man on the street or in the store showed no resentment but only pleasure—that is he showed his pleasure secretly to the American friends he could trust—in America's action.

There is no one general in the world who has had as much fighting during the past three years as General Pancho Villa, rebel leader. Military attaches of the embassies and legations in the Mexican capital constantly pay tribute to Villa's military genius. An instance of Villa's military cleverness was described by a European military student thus:

"Villa never overlooks an opportunity to take advantage of the enemy. All of his fighting lately has been done by means of a long, thin firing line. He distributes his troops over a vast space. It's one of the cleverest things he has ever done, for he knows well that the federal soldiers are men who have been forced into the army and their generals must keep them bunched as they dare not let them get too far away for fear of desertion. Durango, Victoria and Ojinaga were lost in this way, just because the federals didn't dare to split their bodies of troops into small bands."

Huerta has all of an Indian's stoicism. That is the way he spent the eventful day on which came the news that President Wilson had raised the embargo on arms shipped to the rebels.

About ten o'clock, after breakfast, before word came of the raising of the embargo, he went to the Cafe Colon, near his home, merely stopping off for a drink on his way to the palace. Of course in every cafe in the capital there is always someone ready to take a drink with "the president." At noon he was still there, with secret service men waiting around at various tables and standing on the sidewalk outside the cafe doors.

At 1 o'clock came news that the embargo had been raised. The Mexican and American newspaper correspondents began a wild search for Huerta. At last, at 3 o'clock, one American photographer and an English newspaper woman, seeing his ear outside the cafe, entered and demanded to see the president. The secret service men immediately bundled them both into an automobile and took them to cells in the nearest police station.

In the meantime other correspondents had found Moheno, the minister of foreign relations, at his home at lunch.

"I don't know where Huerta is," he said. "He leads a very informal life. Come to my office at 5 o'clock."

There were a dozen correspondents there at the appointed hour. After

We Promise You Relief from All Stomach Troubles- Or Your Money Back

We honestly believe we have the best remedy in the world for indigestion and dyspepsia. We urge you to try it at our risk. If it doesn't relieve you—as we feel sure it will—we'll give back your money without a word. You know us—your family druggist. You know we wouldn't dare recommend anything we didn't know about, nor dare to break a promise. Therefore, when we recommend any remedy it is because we believe it to be better than any other to relieve the ailment for which it is made, and when we prove our faith in it and our sincerity toward you by promising to give back your money if it doesn't relieve you and in every way satisfy you, you have no possible excuse for doubt or hesitation.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Delays Are Dangerous

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

You Risk No Money

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, and we want you to have it.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores. In convenient boxes—three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1.00

H. H. Carter Drug Co.

Seymour,

Indiana.

Rexall Means "KING OF ALL" — Ours is The Rexall Store in this town.

a long wait Moheno got into his carriage and the correspondents trailed him to the palace, where the elusive dictator was located.

A score of newspaper men immediately sent in their cards. Out came a secretary. "The President will probably make a statement," he said. Another long wait until 9:30 when the secretary announced:

"The president cannot see you. He is very busy. Maybe he will make a statement tomorrow."

Within ten minutes Huerta was in his automobile speeding toward another cafe.

ONLY ONE "BEST"

Seymour People Give Credit Where Credit Is Due.

People of Seymour who suffer with weak kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. Doan's Kidney Pills is a medicine for the kidneys only, and one that is backed by willing testimony Seymour people. Here's a case:

Mrs. George Cozine, 24 Mill St., Seymour, Ind., says: "Disordered kidneys caused me much suffering, and I was in bad shape. When I began using Doan's Kidney Pills they rid me of the trouble, although other remedies had failed. I endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills when they cured me and at the present time I am glad to confirm my former statement."

Mrs. Cozine is only one of many Seymour people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches, if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Cozine had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. "When Your Back Is Lame—Remember the Name."

Advertisement.

Taft Urges Court Reform.

By United Press.

Washington, February 27.—Ex-President Taft was expected to appear before the House Judiciary Committee to advocate a bill to effect reform in Federal court procedure. The measure, introduced by Representative Clayton, would empower the Supreme Court to regulate the pleading procedure and practice on the common law side of the Federal courts.

CHARM AND YOUTH.

A "Girl of My Dreams" at Majestic Wednesday, March 4.

Manager Eagleston of the Majestic Theatre announces on Wednesday, March 4, the engagement of the big musical production, "The Girl of My Dreams," the book of which was written by Wilbur D. Nesbitt and Otto Hauerbach and the music by Karl Hosenma, composer of "Three Twins," "Madame Sherry" and many other Broadway hits.

The humor of the book is extremely pleasing and entertaining, and the music is not only high class, but exceedingly catchy and melodious.

The story of the piece tells of a bachelor's downfall before charms of a demure little Quaker girl. The bachelor is much of a clubman, and had the cynical habit of his class toward the feminine sex. A habit of breaking village speed ordinances led him into a bad motor accident. He is carried, much injured, into the Quaker household, where he is nursed back to health by the girl. By the time he is able to look about from an easy chair his ideals of bachelorhood are shattered. The Quakeress and her father later go to the city to see the bachelor and the young woman is much shocked at her prospective husband's friends. She doesn't know whether she loves him or not, but the skies clear in time for a happy ending before the drop of the final curtain.

Among the most prominent in the big cast are: Countess Olga Von Hatzfeldt, Roy Purviance, Eda Von Luke, Frances Gaillard, Irving Brooks, Neil Burns, Laura Campbell, Adele Boulaise, Frank McEwen and many others.

A Winter Cough.

A stubborn, annoying, depressing cough hangs on, racks the body, weakens the lungs, and often leads to serious results. The first dose of Dr. King's New Discovery gives relief. Henry D. Sanders, of Cavenish, Vt., was threatened with consumption, after having pneumonia. He writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery ought to be in every family; it is certainly the best of all medicines for coughs, colds or lung trouble." Good for children's coughs. Money back if not satisfied. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by H. H. Carter, Successor to Andrews Drug Co.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF UNEMPLOYED IN SESSION

Reports Read Regarding Number of Persons Out of Work in the United States.

By United Press.

New York, February 27.—That there is no greater percentage of unemployed persons in the United States today than the percentage according to population four years ago, but that the federal government and state governments should combine to alleviate present conditions, were the themes of speeches made here today at the opening sessions of the National Conference of Unemployment and the American Association for Labor Legislation. Today's big feature will be a joint meeting in Cooper Union with the People's Institute. Mayor John Purroy Mitchel opened the conference this morning in City Hall. Scores of delegates appointed by governors included mayors of big industrial cities and state and municipal officials. Reports regarding the number of persons out of employment in hundreds of towns and cities throughout the United States were to be ready today. The sessions will continue tomorrow.

The King of All Laxatives

For constipation, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. Paul Mathulka, of Buffalo, N. Y., says they are the "king of all laxatives. They are a blessing to all my family and I always keep a box at home." Get a box and get well again. 25c, at H. H. Carter's, Successor to Andrews Drug Co.

FLOOD PREVENTION URGED BY DRAINAGE CONGRESS

President Wilson Asked to Appoint Committee to Investigate Measures.

By United Press.

Washington, February 27.—President Wilson was urged today to appoint a committee of business men from the country at large to provide means for flood prevention.

Members of the National Drainage Congress impressed upon him the shortage of funds for this work. The Congress' educational work has been halted through scarcity of money, and it is likewise short of funds with which to carry out actual preventive measures.

Charged With Rioting.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27.—An aftermath of the recent teamsters' strike came here today in criminal court when twelve men were arraigned charged with rioting in Irvington. The specific charges were that these men had stopped drivers of coal, sand and stone wagons in Irvington December 1 and had threatened them.

Calling Cards.

One hundred calling cards, single one, for 50c. Republican Office.

The Hollow of Her Hand

THE story of a woman who protects the girl slayer of her husband in order to secure revenge upon his family for the persecution she endured at their hands during her young widowhood.

Our next serial—you'll enjoy it!

George Barr McCutcheon
at His Best in our new serial

The Hollow of Her Hand

Don't Miss It!

An unusual, compelling, absorbing mystery

The Hollow of Her Hand

Watch for the first installment in this paper!

WHEN A MAN'S MARRIED

COPYRIGHT 1914 BY THE NEW YORK EVENING TELEGRAM (NEW YORK HERALD CO.). All Rights Reserved.

GIVEN IMPORTANT PLACE ON PROGRAM

(Continued from first page)

tion is a part of the teaching of race-hygiene.

"Physiology and hygiene are required subjects in most schools. In grades above the sixth the boys should be separated from the girls. The boys should have a male teacher, preferably a father. The girls should have a lady teacher. In our city the boys' classes are taught by a man of high ideals, a teacher of fine experience, a father of boys. The teacher of the girls' classes in physiology is a college trained woman, a woman of dignity and with a rich experience as a teacher.

"In these classes nothing need be held back which the students should know. The real questions of the laws of reproduction the schools should leave to the home. But such knowledge of sex-hygiene as the pupils should know may be taught by the teacher as the occasion demands.

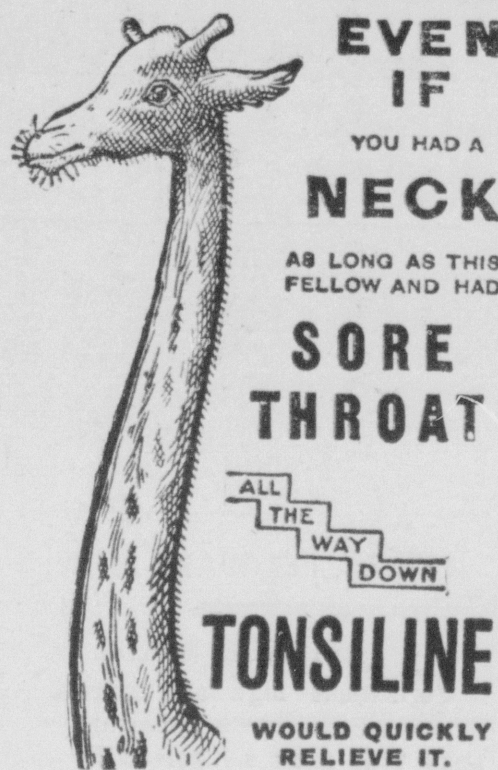

"Most high schools have departments of biology. In these the principle of bi-parental reproduction is taught as a law pertaining to life.

"In the department of home economics in the grades and in the high school, when teaching cooking, sewing, home furnishing and the beautifying of the home, we are building in the minds of the pupils higher ideals of home life, and along with the growth of ideals of the home will come higher ideals of the purity of the home, and the importance in the home of healthy children.

"In the art departments of our schools where the first aim is to develop an appreciation of and love for the beautiful as well as to give the pupils the power to reproduce the beautiful in their own lives, every phase of moral purity has a support. One has said, "Next to the love of God, the love of the beautiful is the greatest safeguarding against all which is low and degrading."

"In historic art the favorite theme through the ages has been the sacredness of motherhood. The Madonna in art stands as a silent teacher of purity as well as of the holiness of motherhood and the sacredness of child life.

A quick, safe, soothing, healing, antiseptic relief for Sore Throat, briefly describes TONSILINE. A small bottle of Tonsiline lasts longer than most any case of Sore Throat. TONSILINE relieves Sore Throat and Hoarseness and prevents Quinsy. 25c and 50c. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists. THE TONSILINE COMPANY, Canton, Ohio.

"Throughout the realms of English literature no theme is more emphasized than the purity of the home, the sacredness of motherhood, and the love for little children. The teacher of literature has an opportunity which has never been measured to develop in the student a lofty idealism and a spirit of altruism in the realm of home life and of child life. The spirit of the Master who proclaimed, "Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven," pervades the best of our English classics.

"The school must have as one of its aims the creating in the coming generation the highest ideals of home life and of parenthood, and where it can be able to aid the home in giving that knowledge which will safeguard the health of the child at every point."

At the same session John W. Carr, superintendent of the schools at Bayonne, N. J., spoke on the same subject and presented his objections to the teaching of pure sex hygiene in the class room. He said: "I am opposed to the direct teaching of sex-hygiene in the public schools for several reasons.

"The subject is not suited to class instruction for boys and girls of the grammar or high school grades. The subject is so intimate and personal that the teaching should be given to the individual by father or mother, or some other person who is near and dear. This knowledge should be imparted at a time when it is most needed and in a manner which will be most effective. The fact that many parents neglect or are unable to give this instruction is no reason why the schools should undertake the work. There should be a general understanding to the effect that the school cannot and should not be expected to do all that needs to be done for children. Parents have duties and responsibilities which cannot be delegated to others and in my opinion this is one of them."

FARMERS ASKING ABOUT INCOME TAX

Information Concerning New Law Is Prepared by the Department of Agriculture.

RETURNS TO BE MADE MARCH 1

Bachelors Having Income Less Than $3,000 and Married Persons Less Than $4,000 Exempted.

Washington, February 27.—If a farmer is so fortunate as to have a net income of over $3,000 a year in case he is a bachelor, or $4,000 if married, he is subject to the income tax, and under the law each individual must make return to the internal revenue collector of this district on or before the first day of March if he has a net income of $3,000 or over ($2,500 for the ten months of 1913). While the interest of most farmers in this subject is purely academic, the Department of Agriculture has received inquiries indicating that some wish to know just what is required of them under the new law.

The income tax law of October 3, 1913, places a tax of one per cent upon all net incomes of over $3,000, with an additional tax on incomes of $20,000 or more. The first question arising in the minds of most people is what constitutes a net income. For a man receiving a regular salary or a business man with a good system of bookkeeping, it is easy to determine whether or not his income is taxable. But for the farmer who receives no stated income, and who often fails to keep accurate account of receipts and expenditures, it is more difficult to calculate his net income.

In order that farmers may be posted on the income tax as it may concern them, the following information has been furnished by the Internal Revenue Bureau of the Treasury Department:

In general, an income consists of amounts derived from salaries, wages or compensation for personal service, paid in any form; also from professions, business, sales or dealings in property, or from rents, interest on bonds or mortgages, dividends on stocks, or other income from investments. These items constitute gross income, from which there should be deducted the expenses of carrying on the business; interest paid on indebtedness; worthless debts charged off; losses by fire, storm or shipwreck, not covered by insurance; exhaustion, wear and tear of property, and any income upon which the income tax has already been deducted at the source, as, for instance dividends on the stock of a corporation which has already paid the tax on its earnings.

The provisions regarding net incomes of $3,000 apply only to unmarried persons, or to married persons not living as wife or husband. A husband and wife living together are entitled to an exemption of $4,000 on their aggregate income. This means that in case the wife has a separate income, if this is added to the husband's income amounts to $4,000 the total is subject to the tax; or, if the wife has no separate income the husband's income is taxable only in case it reaches $4,000. But a return must be made if the aggregate income of both is $2,500 for the year 1913. The joint exemption, however, would be $3,333.33 for 1913.

In arriving at his net income the farmer should start with his gross income. This would consist of any items of the kind above enumerated, and especially all receipts from the sale of products of every description from the farm. This would include all money received for produce and animals sold, and for the wool and hides of animals slaughtered, if the wool and hides are sold; but he may deduct from these items the amounts actually paid as purchase money for the animals sold or slaughtered during the year. When the animals raised by the owner are sold or slaughtered, however, their value should not be deducted.

From the gross income there should be deducted amounts of money actually paid as expenses for operating the farm and producing the farm products, live stock, etc. This would include hired farm labor, farm supplies purchased that are necessary to carry on the business and not an investment that represents principal, etc. Expenses for repairs on farm property may be deducted, provided the amount deducted does not exceed the amount spent for such repairs during the year for which the return is made. The cost of re-

Nothing is Impossible

You may think it impossible to have your earning power doubled, tripled or quadrupled, but the realization of such an ambition is no more impossible than flying from New York to Los Angeles—telephoning from New York to Denver—or telegraphing without wires from San Francisco to Japan, all of which has been done within the last year.

The International Correspondence Schools offer to men with ambition the opportunity to make their dreams come true. Thousands of ambitious men are now taking this short cut to better positions—to greater home comforts—to a higher standing as citizens.

Now if you have said, "I CAN DO IT"—say, "I WILL DO IT," and the I. C. S. will help you to succeed. Just mark the coupon, for that is the first step.

This step will bring you without any obligation on your part, all particulars as to how the I. C. S. trains you for success and the realization of your ambition.

Mark and Mail the Coupon NOW

International Correspondence Schools BOX 173, SCRANTON, PA.

Please explain, without further obligation on my part, how I can qualify for a larger salary and advancement to the position, trade, or profession before which I have marked X.

Salesmanship Bookkeeping
Stenographer
Advertising Man
Show-Card Writer
Window Trimming
Mechanical Draftsman
Industrial Designing Commercial Illustrating Civil Service
Chemist
English Branches
Automobile Running Concrete Construction
Electrical Engineer
Electric Lighting
Mechanical Engineer
Civil Engineer
Surveyor
Stationary Engineer
Building Contractor
Architectural Draftsman
Architect
Structural Engineer
Plumbing and Steam Fitting Mining Engineer

Name .....
St. & No. ....
City ..... State .....

Present Occupation .....

DURING THE HEAVY SNOWS

a great deal of sickness is common among children. It is almost impossible to keep them in; but it is possible to see that their feet will be kept good and warm, do not neglect this but send them over to our well equipped shoe shop for repairs. Our prices are reasonable.

W. N. FOX
Electric Shoe Shop
120 East Second St., Seymour, Ind.

Your Credit is Good With Us

STRIKE US

FOR Any Amount

Money Loaned on Furniture, Pianos, Fixtures, Live Stock.

Investigate Our New Plan Licensed and Bonded.

INTEREST FOR ONE MONTH ON
$10.00 is $0.20 $ 50.00 is $1.00
25.00 is .50 100.00 is 2.00
40.00 is .80 250.00 is 5.00
Small charge for papers.

SEYMOUR LOAN CO.

17½ East Second St.,
Over Carter's Bicycle Store.

CHAS. E. GILLESPIE, M. D.

Practice limited to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat and Fitting Glasses
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 1 to 6 p. m.
7 to 8 p. m.
Andrews Building Phone 245
SEYMOUR, INDIANA.

W. H. BURKLEY

REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE AND LOANS
SEYMOUR, IND.

NO HUNTING

No more hunting for the tobacco that exactly suits you.

Not after you've found STAG—rich—ripe—mellow—fragrant—full bodied—yet exquisitely MILD.

Convenient Packages: The Handy Half-Size 5-Cent Tin, the Full-Size 10-Cent Tin, the Pound and Half-Pound Tin Humidors and the Pound Glass Humidor.

STAG

For Pipe and Cigarette

"EVER-LASTING-LY GOOD" P. Lorillard Co. Est. 1760

"No Bite,
"No Sting,
"No Bag,
"No String."

(Continued on page 6, column 4)

You Run Your Business With a Check Book - How About Your Home?

"BILLS, bills, bills—nothing but bills!" frequently is the complaint of the head of the family. No man would think of running his business WITHOUT A CHECK BOOK. How about YOUR home? The running of the home today is a BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

Open a CHECKING ACCOUNT With Us at Once

Pay by check, it acts as a receipt and does away with all arguments

The First National Bank
SEYMOUR, INDIANA.

THE REPUBLICAN

JAY C. SMITH, Editor and Publisher

Entered at the Seymour, Indiana,
Post-office as Second-class Matter.

DAILY.

One Year.....$5.00
Six Months.....2.50
Three Months.....1.25
One Month......45
One Week......10

WEEKLY.

One Year in Advance.....$1.00

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1914.

IMPROVED ROADS.

Permanent highway improvement is one of the most important problems that must be solved by every community in Indiana during the next few years. With the exception of the improvement of the rural school system probably no other question has attracted more serious attention than that of better roads. Every one is ready to admit that good roads add to the value of the surrounding farms, improve the means of transportation of farm products to the city markets and in the end are more economical than dirt highways. If permanent highways could be built without an added expense to the taxpayers there would be a general demand for them from every section of the state.

At the next meeting of the commissioners of this county they will be imposed with the duty of deciding upon the petitions asking for the improvement of twelve miles of gravel roads in this township. There are some objections to the plan and these were not unexpected. Opposition arises to all improvements that call for a large expenditure of money. It appears that all agree that the roads described in the petitions are in need of repair and the case resolves itself into the one question of how can the work be best accomplished at the lowest expense.

Under our present road repair laws the largest and most wealthy townships must pay for the greatest part of the repair work. This, however, has nothing to do with the matter of the proposed permanent roads. If that law is faulty it should be changed but it should not be used as a means of delaying improvements which will benefit the community generally. But, Jackson township is entitled to her share of road repair money and if the permanent roads are constructed that portion coming to the township can be used in improving other roads which should receive attention.

The question very forcibly impresses the taxpayers with the crying need of state supervision of highways. At this time we have no central authority. No uniform system has been inaugurated and each township or county proceeds upon its own adopted course. If there were a state highway commission in Indiana the matter would be taken up with that body and an expert road engineer could be sent here to confer with the leaders of the movement and an assurance would be given that the right materials would be used and the taxpayers would receive the kind of a highway called for in the specifications.

Horrible Blotches of Eczema

Quickly cured by Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. C. P. Caldwell, of New Orleans, La., states: "My doctor advised me to try 'Dr. Hobson's Eczema Salve.' I used three boxes of Ointment and three cakes of Dr. Hobson's Derma-Zema Soap. Today I have not a spot anywhere on my body and can say I am cured." It will do the same for you. Its soothing, healing, antiseptic action will rid you of all skin humors, blackheads, pimples, Eczema blotches, red unsightly sores, and leaves your skin clean and healthy. Get a box today. Guaranteed. All Druggists, 50c., or by mail, H. H. Carter, Successor to Andrews Drug Co., Pfeiffer Chemical Co., Philadelphia & St. Louis.

Advertisement.

Program For Sunday Evening.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the German M. E. church will hold its annual meeting Sunday evening, March 1 at 7:30 o'clock. A good program and the thanks offering will be received.

DR. BELL'S
Antiseptic Salve

applied right away would have killed those few germs and kept these millions from being born. To have a 25c. box of this salve ready for emergencies, ask for Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve.

"Tell It By The Bell"

Sold by Rucker's Drug Store.

SULZER STICKS TO HIS STORY

Reasserts That Gaffney Was Murphy's Intermediary.

O'GORMAN MUST TAKE STAND

Effort of the Court to Identify the Go-Between in Alleged Demands Made on State Contractors Has Come to the Point Where United States Senator Will Be Called on to Give His Story.

New York, Feb. 27.—James A. O'Gorman, United States senator, will be called before the grand jury in a final effort to identify James E. Gaffney, the personal and political friend of Charles F. Murphy, as the man who tried to get $150,000 from James C. Stewart while the latter's bids for contracts were pending before the canal board.

His appearance is made necessary because of testimony given yesterday in the John Doe inquiry by former Governor Sulzer, who swore that Senator O'Gorman told him that Stewart, the senator's client, in telling of the attempted hold-up was positive that the man who approached him was the James E. Gaffney who has been associated with the Tammany leader for years. Sulzer said the senator indicated to him that there was no question of the identity of the man who wanted $150,000.

Stewart has failed to identify the living James E. Gaffney as the man who approached him, but he has told the grand jury that he believes this James E. Gaffney is the man. The fact that Chief Magistrate McAdoo reverted to this phase of the graft inquiry after it had apparently been dropped and that Sulzer was so positive in his statements, led Assistant District Attorneys Edwards and Embree to say that it is now incumbent upon them to call Senator O'Gorman.

Mr. Sulzer affirmed that Charles F. Murphy did not return to the late Anthony N. Brady $25,000 that was handed to him as a campaign contribution by Judge Samuel E. Beardsley, Mr. Brady's lawyer. He declared that the $25,000 which Murphy gave to Brady was in settlement of a suit brought against the Tammany leader by Brady and challenged the district attorney to produce the records of that suit as a matter of public interest and concern. Judge Beardsley testified recently that Brady told him that Murphy did give back $25,000, but he said Brady did not identify the sum as that which he first offered to Sulzer and then gave to Murphy for campaign purposes.

The former governor also accused Murphy of concealing the campaign contribution of Allan Ryan by using dummies in the reports of contributions filed with the secretary of state by the treasurer of the Democratic state committee. He said Murphy told him he intended to do this in this instance because Thomas F. Ryan had also contributed $10,000 by check, inferring that Murphy did not want the records to show that $20,000 came from the Ryans alone. Mr. Sulzer said that of the dummies were George W. Plunkitt and Thomas F. McAvoy. Mr. Plunkitt had been subpoenaed.

MOTHER DID KILL HER BABY

Hartford City Mystery Cleared by Family's Admission.

Hartford City, Ind., Feb. 27.—That Mrs. H. O. Miller, 43 years old, caused the death of her month-old son and then attempted to take her own life, was admitted when the family, who had tried to conceal the facts, issued a statement to the press. Mental and physical torture suffered by Mrs. Miller during her recent illness caused her to go insane. While her husband and other members of the family slept, the mother, with a pair of scissors, hacked the child's throat, smothering its cries in the bed clothing. With a butcher knife she almost severed one of the little arms and then she drew the sharp blade across her own throat and wrist. She probably will die. The bodies were found by a sister upon her return from a dance.

Famous Cartoonist Dead.

London, Feb. 27.—Sir John Tenniel, for many decades the leading British cartoonist, is dead at the age of ninety-four. He it was who so mercilessly caricatured Abraham Lincoln during the civil war. He held the record for continuous service. Fifty years were spent, with scarcely a holiday, as cartoonist for London Punch.

Death Warrants Signed.

Albany, Feb. 27.—The four gunmen who murdered Herman Rosenthal must die on Monday, April 13, the court of appeals has decided. Warrants for their execution were signed by the judges and will be forwarded to Warden Clancy at Sing Sing.

No Opposition For Cline.

Auburn, Ind., Feb. 27.—Representative Cyrus Cline of Steuben county had no opposition at the Twelfth district Democratic convention held in the Dekalb courthouse, and he was nominated unanimously for congress.

EVERIS A. HAYES.

Representative in Congress From Eighth District of California.

MORE DISCUSSION OF JAPANESE EXCLUSION

Mr. Hayes of California Lets Lid Pop Off.

Washington, Feb. 27.—In the house committee on immigration discussion of Japanese exclusion broke out again despite the efforts of the Democrats to head it off. The committee had under consideration the bill proposing to exclude Hindus. The Pacific coast members brought up the question of Japanese exclusion and Robert O'Donnell, a special agent of the immigration bureau, declared that Japanese are as active in seeking admission to the United States as Chinese and Hindus. "You speak of the surreptitious entry of Chinese and Hindus," suggested Representative Hayes of California, an advocate of the exclusion of all the yellow races. "How generally do the Japanese do the same thing?"

"I have no reason to believe the Japanese are any less active than the Hindus and Chinese," replied Mr. O'Donnell. "I think that they are just as active. We are catching them right along on the Mexican border and deporting them."

"How many were apprehended last year?" asked Mr. Hayes.

"We sent back ninety-six during the first six months of the fiscal year," he replied.

Representative Moore of Pennsylvania started trouble by remarking, "Why, that is a sufficient number to terrorize the entire Pacific coast."

"You mean that it shows that the government only caught ninety-six, while thousands are entering," retorted Representative Johnson of Washington, with some heat.

Addressing Moore, Mr. Hayes said, sharply: "You better get your facts straight before you slander the people of any state."

BRUTALLY SLAIN ON STREET

Indiana Man Shot Down at Olney For Resenting Insult to Woman.

Sullivan, Ind., Feb. 27.—Edward Marcum, aged thirty-five, of Carlisle, is dead in a hospital at Olney, Ill., of bullet wounds in the abdomen, said to have been received at the hands of Jake Godfrey, a section laborer on the Big Four at Lawrenceville, Ill. The shooting occurred in the streets of Lawrenceville, and the wounded man was hurried to the hospital at Olney, where physicians used an X-ray, but failed to find the bullet. Marcum died a few hours later.

Marcum, who has been working in the Illinois oil fields with his father, William Marcum, was walking down the street with a woman, it is said, when Godfrey passed them and made an insulting remark to the woman. Marcum turned and started back toward Godfrey, who, it is said, fired five shots from a 38-caliber revolver, without taking it from his overcoat pocket. Godfrey made his escape.

Bloomington Goes "Dry."

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 27.—Bloomington gave a "dry" majority of 183 in the local option election. There was a "wet" majority of fifteen three years ago. Bloomington has been "dry" two years by remonstrance.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE

Observations of United States weather bureaus taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

Temp.	Weather.
New York..... 39	Clear
Boston..... 36	Clear
Denver..... 30	Pt. Cloudy
San Francisco. 48	Clear
St. Paul..... 26	Pt. Cloudy
Chicago..... 36	Pt. Cloudy
Indianapolis... 13	Clear
St. Louis..... 38	Cloudy
New Orleans... 44	Pt. Cloudy
Washington... 32	Clear

Probably snow.

VERY PROPERLY DECLINE TO ACT

Judges Declare They Can Not Name Arbiters.

IT MIGHT EMBARRASS THEM

Holding That Future Questions Might Come Before Them Depending on Their Acquiescence in Request of Service Commission, Trio of High Court Judges Decide to Keep Out of Indianapolis Streetcar Row.

Indianapolis, Feb. 27.—In a letter to the public service commission Judges A. B. Anderson of the federal court, M. B. Lairy of the appellate court and Douglas Morris of the supreme court declined to name members of a permanent board of arbitration to settle grievances which may arise between the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company and its employees within the next three years.

The judges expressed the belief that it would be improper for them to name arbiters because of the possibility of questions arising out of some action of the board being carried to the courts in which they sit as judges.

In settling the streetcar controversy growing out of the recent strike in Indianapolis, the service commission provided that an arbitration board to settle any future grievances should be named by the judge of the federal court and the chief justices of the appellate and supreme courts.

Chairman Duncan of the commission gave the judges formal notice of their appointment, following a request from the streetcar men that a board be named to hear the question of reinstating several discharged employees. The judges met at once and reached the decision that they should not serve.

GOSSIP FROM THE CAPITAL

Bits of Washington News of Particular Interest to Hoosiers.

Representative Moss of the Fifth Indiana district has received assurances from the White House that John J. Cleary will be appointed postmaster at Terre Haute. After the postmaster general had sent Cleary's name to the president with the recommendation that the appointment be made, the special prosecuting attorney in the election cases at Terre Haute forwarded to the president a protest against the proposed appointment. The president has received assurances from a large number of influential Terre Haute people that Cleary was not mixed up in the election frauds in any way.

The committee on appropriations has under consideration a bill appropriating $9,000 to provide for a deficiency in the regular appropriation for the support of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers for the fiscal year 1914, that has been made necessary by the loss of supplies through the destruction of a storehouse and its contents at the Marion branch by fire on Jan. 20.

It was announced at the treasury department that when entries closed every national bank in Indiana had applied for membership in the new federal reserve system. There are 257 national banks in the state and applications have been received from all of them.

Robert S. Taylor of Fort Wayne will retire March 10 as a member of the Mississippi river commission after many years' service. On that date the president will send to the senate the nomination of Edward A. Glenn of Pike county, Missouri, as a member of the commission.

Representatives Barnhart, Cox and Cullip, members of the committee of the Indiana delegation to draft a primary plank for the Democratic state convention, approved the proposed plank prepared by Representative Barnhart.

Representative Barnhart has recommended that Henry Schaaf be appointed postmaster at Michigan City. Representative Morrison has recommended the nomination of Thomas J. Shelburne to be postmaster at Zionsville.

Five million pike and perch eggs will be sent to the Indiana state fish hatchery by the bureau of fisheries next month, to be used in stocking the lakes and streams of Indiana.

Editor Must Pay $200.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 27.—E. N. Dingley, editor of the Progressive Herald, a weekly paper here, must pay a fine of $200 or go to jail for contempt of court. This was the sentence imposed by Judge Stewart, who found the editor guilty of contempt for the publication of an article in a recent issue of the Herald, attacking the court.

Becker Leaves Sing Sing.

New York, Feb. 27.—Former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker was returned to the tombs from the death house at Sing Sing early last evening to await a new trial for freedom. He will enter on his retrial before the last of May.

It is now proposed in certain quarters that the United States and the other powers send troops to Mexico as they did in China to restore peace and police the country until the Mexican people can take care of themselves.

THE White Goods Sale Is to be Continued

Owing to the severe weather of this week we feel that the people have not been fully served and the sale will be continued. The lines are unbroken and there are choice selections and bargains in every department.

GOLD MINE DEPARTMENT STORE
SEYMOUR, INDIANA

LEST YOU FORGET

Try one pound of our Country Store Coffee at.....28c
One 15c Bread Pan Free with first pound as an introductory offer.

Best Milk 4c
5c size.....

Best Milk 8c
10c size.....

Star Tobacco 39c
per pound.....

Fresh Crackers 5c
per pound.....

All this week we will sell LENOX SOAP 5c
2 bars for.....

Not over 100 bars to customer

Choice Patent FLOUR, satisfaction guaranteed, bag 55c

Pure Lard 12½c
per pound.....

Heavy Canvas Gloves, Knit Wrist 15c
2 pair for.....

Nails, sizes 8 to 60, per 100 lbs. $2.25

RAY R. KEACH,
E. Second St., SEYMOUR, IND.

YOU KNOW

The reasons you prefer your suit made to your individual measure is: 1st to obtain a perfect fit;—2nd the best workmanship;—3rd an immense assortment of woollens to select from and 4th the very newest styles. Here you are guaranteed all of the above. Also pure all-wool fabrics and prompt deliveries. Two prices only $16.50 and $22.50. Your patronage appreciated.

RAY MILBURN

Men's Sure Fit Suits

At Dehler's Store.

OUR $10 and $15 Overcoats

Are fastly being claimed because of the excellent Style and quality at the price, even though we are not having a big sale.

We have some special prices that are attracting a lot of attention.

You will find just your ideal in style, quality and price at this store.

Other styles up to $20.

THE HUB

THE RELIABLE STORE

PRODUCE

The following arrived fresh today. The quality is fine.

CAULIFLOWER
RHUBARB
NEW TOMATOES
GRAPE FRUIT
CELERY
FLORIDA ORANGES
KALE
SWEET POTATOES
CRANBERRIES
ROMAN BEAUTY APPLES
WINE SAP APPLES
LETTUCE
FRESH OYSTERS
SANITARY CAKES

L. L. BOLLINGER
PHONE 170

The Simple Way

To treat the skin is the Nyal way. It is a pleasure to use Nyal Cream, and the directions are so plain and easily followed that a child can understand. Get a Nyal complexion by using Nyal Cream. Price 25c.

Cox's Pharmacy
Phone 100

Progressive Convention.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 27.—District Chairmen Harry Brown of Waterloo and County Chairman Lloyd T. Bailey, of Whitley county were the two leading candidates for the district chairmanship when the Twelfth district Progressive convention convened here today. Aside from the reorganization, it was expected there would be some talk concerning candidates for state office. D. N. Foster has been mentioned as a candidate for state treasurer.

Fatal Fight on Freight Train.

Decatur, Ind., Feb. 27.—In a fight while stealing a ride in a freight car on the Erie railroad, two tramps quarreled and one was mortally shot by the other. The assailant escaped to a Clover Leaf train and cannot be located. The wounded man crawled from the train and summoned the officers himself, but is in a critical condition.

Dog Owners.

The city dog license of $1.00 for the year 1914 must be paid to the city clerk on or before Saturday, Feb. 28th. Owners of dogs without the city tag after that date will be prosecuted. H. L. McCord, Chief of Police.

State Examination for Teachers.

The State Board of Education will conduct examinations for teachers desiring to obtain professional or state licenses tomorrow at 9 a. m. at the Shields High School.

Everyone reads the Want Ads.

PERSONAL.

J. H. Kamman was in Columbus today on legal business.

John Disney, Sr., went to Columbus today on business.

Frank Bush made a business trip to Louisville this morning.

W. E. Dailey was here from Brownstown this morning on business.

Nathan Speier is at home from a week's business trip in New York City.

Harold Stewart went to Indianapolis this morning to attend the Auto Show.

Sheriff Van Robertson of Brownstown, was in the city today on business.

F. W. Wesner and O. H. Montgomery went to Brownstown this morning on business.

Mrs. Frank Elliott went to Columbus this morning to spend the day with relatives.

Miss Carrie Edwards, of Paoli, came this morning to spend a week with her brother.

Philip Cordes and Ira Pomeroy went to Greencastle today to spend Sunday with friends.

Mrs. Edward Massman went to Shoals this morning to spend a few days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James Goforth returned this morning from a visit with relatives in Butlerville.

Rev. E. H. Eggers went to Columbus this morning to officiate at the funeral of Mrs. Wilhelmina Voltz.

Willard Everhart, of Crothersville, was here Thursday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Everhart.

Miss Violet Dunlavy returned to her home in Shoals this morning after visiting with Mrs. George Tierney.

Miss Vernice Fettig, of Columbus, came this morning on account of the illness of her grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Fettig.

Miss Martha Schmidt went to Cincinnati Thursday afternoon to hear Paderewski, the noted pianist, last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ross and children left this morning for Hartford City to spend two weeks with relatives.

Supt. W. B. Page and Trainmaster L. M. Brown, of the I. C. & S. Traction Company were in the city today on business.

Mrs. Rose Unger and Mrs. Verda Lithe returned to their home in Marion this morning after spending a few days here.

Miss Frieda Aufderheide returned this afternoon from Indianapolis, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Leo Head.

Miss Belle Hamilton, of Springfield, Ill., came Thursday evening and is the guest of her brother, Elmer E. Hamilton, and family.

Lawrence Morarity returned to his home in Mitchell Thursday afternoon after spending two weeks here with his sister, Mrs. C. E. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris, of Columbus, who have been visiting relatives here for several weeks, returned to their home this morning.

T. A. Mott arrived home today from Richmond, Va., where he has been attending the Convention of the National Education Association.

Mrs. C. A. Chambers returned Thursday evening from Indianapolis where she was called by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Wasson Winkler.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newland, of Indianapolis, were here this morning on their way to Brownstown, where they were called by the illness of a relative.

Miss Mary McMeekin, of Cincinnati, who has been the guest of Miss Ruth Cole, went to Indianapolis this morning to spend a few days before leaving for her home.

STATE ORATORICAL CONTEST AT INDIANAPOLIS TONIGHT

Representatives of Seven Indiana Colleges Compete For Honors.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27.—With the representatives of seven colleges swarming into town today for the intercollegiate oratorical contest, Indianapolis assumed its usual air of tolerance for the enthusiasm of youth, and smiled at the banners and college yells. This is an annual affair here and the city is rather used to it. It vies with the Indiana-Purdue game in spirit and in the numbers of college men and women it brings to town.

Wabash and Earlham Colleges had the biggest representations this afternoon, due to the basketball game between their teams, which was to be played at the Y. M. C. A. About the association building were gathered all the rooters of those two schools and many old "grads" who turned out to help their teams along. The dope probably favored Wabash, for the Little Giants already had defeated the Quakers 17 to 10 in a

ANNOUNCEMENT!

OUR line of Clothing Samples from the ROYAL Tailors for the Spring and Summer seasons have arrived, and we will be pleased to have you call and inspect them.

We can assure you satisfaction in fit, style, quality and workmanship

Made to Your Measure—$16.00 to $35.00.

Adolph Steinwedel

17 North Chestnut Street

YOUR Watch or Clock

Can be Made to Keep Time
Let us Prove It
STRATTON--Jeweler

game a week ago. The Earlhmites, however, believed their men had overcome a good deal of the stage fright that crippled them in the other game, and would not concede victory to Wabash.

DePauw University, because of its many victories in oratory, was considered the strongest bidder for tonight's honors. Here again Earlham was considered strong, for these two schools have been the bitterest rivals in the state in oratory. Earlham will again be represented by a girl, Miss Alma Madden. Miss Janet Fenimore, who once won state honors in oratory, was an Earlham student.

Sold by Rucker's Drug Store.

SEYMOUR MARKET.

Wagon Wheat	.....93c
New Corn	.....60c
Shelled oats, per bu.	.....40c
Straw, wheat, ton	.....7.00
Hay, oats, ton	.....8.00
Hay, timothy, loose	.....$16@18
Hay, timothy, baled	.....$16@18
Hay, clover, ton	.....$14@16
POULTRY.
Hens, per pound	.....12c
Springs, per pound	.....10c
Guineas, apiece	.....25c
Ducks, per pound	.....10c
Geese, per pound	.....8c
Old roosters, per pound	.....7c
Turkeys, per pound	.....16c
Old Toms, per pound	.....12c
Pigeons, per dozen	.....75c
Eggs, per dozen	.....22c
Butter, per pound	.....15c
HOGS.
Top	.....$8-$8.45
Light	.....$7.75-$8.25
CATTLE.
Butcher cattle	.....$7@8
Veal calves, per lb.	.....$6-$7
SHEEP.
Best	.....$5

25 per cent.
Reduction

Better Clothes

25 per cent.
Reduction

THOMAS CLOTHING CO.

Extra Trousers

This is the time of the year when extra trousers are almost a necessity. We have a choice lot of fancy Casimeres, Worsteds, Serges and Corduroys to close out to make room for our Spring stock. We are making a reduction of 25 per cent. on all our heavy trousers for this week. Better get a pair.

THOMAS CLOTHING CO.

25 per cent.
Reduction

Better Service

25 per cent.
Reduction

HERE'S NEWS

The coal to be had here never varies in quality—it is always the best to be had and it's free from slate and dirt too, thus eliminating all waste. It will surprise you to know how much can be saved by having us fill your wants.

Raymond City at $4.25 Per Ton.

EBNER ICE & COLD STORAGE CO.
COAL AND ICE
PHONE No. 4

THE MAIN BUILDING ESSENTIAL

is "good, first quality lumber, free from knots, cracks and imperfections," kiln dried and properly seasoned. No matter what kind of a house you build lumber must of necessity be used in the greater part of it. So the better the lumber the better the house. This is one great reason why it should be supplied by Seymour Planing Mill Co. Their lumber is always of the best grade and furnished according to contract.

SEYMOUR PLANING MILL CO.
419 S. Chestnut.

Building Material

The Very Best at the Lowest Prices

Lumber, Shingles, Lath, Sash, Doors and Blinds.

High Grade Mill Work

Veneered Doors and Interior Finish.

Travis Carter Co.

Geo. F. Meyer

Drug Store

104 S. Chestnut St.
Phone 247

Sudie Mills Matlock
Piano Teacher

Res. Studio: 521 N. Chestnut St.
SEYMOUR, INDIANA.

ANNA E. CARTER
NOTARY PUBLIC

Office at the Daily Republican office, 108 West Second St.

H. LETT, M. D. C.
Veterinary Surgeon
111 W. Third St., SEYMOUR
Phones—643 and 644

FIRE INSURANCE
A few dollars invested today may save you thousands tomorrow.

E. W. BLISH, Room No. 11 Postal Building

OSTEOPATHY

BY THE Spaunhurst
Osteopaths
D. L. Robeson, resident.
Full three year graduate in Osteopathy. Fifth year in Seymour, 14 West Second Street. Phone No. 557

Good Time Now For Blood Health

Energies Are More Keen and Respond Quickly to Help.

If you are down with rheumatism; if you sneeze, feel chilled, are choked with catarrh, have a cough, or your skin is pimply and irritated with rash, eczema, or any other blood disorder just remember that all the life in you comes from impure blood. And you can easily give your blood a good thorough cleansing, a bath by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be dependent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system, or how unsightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. S. that so stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each part selects its own essential nutriment from the blood.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such a specific influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. For many years people relied upon Mercury, Iodine, Potash, Arsenic, "Physics," Cathartics and "Dopes" as remedies for blood sickness, but now the pure vegetable S. S. S. is their safeguard.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. And you should take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a Specialist freely, address Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 218 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

INDIANAPOLIS AND LOUISVILLE TRACTION COMPANY

Dixie Flyers leave Seymour for Crothersville, Scottsburg, Sellersburg, Watson Junction, Jeffersonville and Louisville at 9:11, 11:11 a. m. and 2:11, 4:11, 6:11, 9:11 p. m.

Local cars leave Seymour for Louisville and all intermediate points at 6:00, 8:00, 10:00 a. m., 12:00 m., 1:00, 3:00, 5:00, 7:00, 8:10, 11:00 a. m.

*Runs as far as Scottsburg only.

Freight service daily except Sunday between Seymour, Jeffersonville, Louisville, New Albany and all intermediate points.

Express service given on local passenger cars.

For rates and further information see agents, or official time folders in all cars.

GENERAL OFFICES,
Scottsburg, Indiana.

JOHN A. WEAVER

Pension Attorney and Notary Public

All business in my line given prompt attention. Come and see me at the same old stand, where I have been for twenty-five years.

SEYMOUR, INDIANA.

TO STOP LABOR IMMIGRATION UNTIL UNEMPLOYED GET WORK

John H. Walker Says Plan May Not be Permanent Solution But Will Aid in Relief.

By United Press
New York, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Stopping of labor immigration for a period of ten years, until our own unemployed can be absorbed in the channels of employment and the initiation of extensive public works, national, state and municipal, was advocated today as a temporary remedy for the present problem of unemployment by President John H. Walker, of the Illinois Federation of Labor.

Walker, here to attend the National Conference on employment, gave the United Press the following statement:

"The permanent solution of the unemployment problem does not yet appear, but there are temporary steps which could be well taken to secure relief. I believe we should encourage legislation providing employment insurance; stop all labor immigration for a period of say ten years, until we have assimilated and provided for the labor we now have in our own country; eliminate child labor, and as far as possible woman labor, providing of course for the male sex getting wages enough properly to care for both the women and children also, and to shorten the days work for men.

"Then start public works, such as the deep waterway from New Orleans to Chicago, and similar projects which are necessary, and in the course of time will pay thousands of times over the cost of having it done.

"If municipality and state could start such projects of the same character; building of roads; buying land and building modern homes for the working people to live in after they, at moderate rentals, get back the cost of these buildings, then renting them to the people at cost of maintenance; make parks and playgrounds, public health recreation and pleasure resorts. All this will give us present relief from the problem of the unemployed."

Feel Miserable?

Out of sorts, depressed, pain in the back—Electric Bitters renews your health and strength. A guaranteed Liver and Kidney remedy. Money back if not satisfied. It completely cured Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, who suffered from virulent liver trouble for eight months. After four doctors gave him up, he took Electric Bitters and is now a well man. Get a bottle today; it will do the same for you. Keep in the house for all liver and kidney complaints. Perfectly safe and dependable. Its results will surprise you. 50c. and $1.00. Recommended by H. H. Carter, Successor to Andrews Drug Co.

Advertisement.

A. Strauss, of Terre Haute, who has been here for several days on business at the Gold Mine, left for his home this morning.

FRECKLES

February and March Bring Out Unsightly Spots. How to move Easily.

The woman with tender skin dreads February and March because they are likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle.

Fortunately for her peace of mind the recent discovery of a new prescription, othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them.

Get an ounce from your druggist and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

"Southeastern Line"

Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern Railway Company.

NORTHBOUND
—Daily—
No. 1	No. 2	No. 3	No. 4
Seymour	8:30 am	2:30 pm
Bedford	7:50 am	4:10 pm
Odon	8:08 am	5:20 pm	7:05 am
Elkhart	8:16 am	5:45 pm	7:17 am
Beehunter	8:23 am	6:10 pm	7:30 am
Linton	8:47 am	6:24 pm	7:45 am
Jacksonville	10:14 am	7:00 pm	8:18 am
Terre Haute	11:15 am	8:00 pm	9:25 am
No. 5, Linton to Terre Haute leave Linton 1:30 p. m., arriving at Terre Haute 2:35 p. m.

SOUTHBOUND
—Daily—
No. 1	No. 2	No. 3	No. 4
Terre Haute	8:30 am	1:35 pm	8:50 pm
Jacksonville	6:50 am	2:07 pm	8:49 pm
Linton	7:17 am	2:32 pm	7:17 pm
Beehunter	7:30 am	2:46 pm	7:30 pm
Elkhart	7:46 am	3:09 pm	7:46 pm
Odon	7:58 am	3:16 pm	8:00 pm
Bedford	8:27 am	5:00 pm
Seymour	11:00 am	6:20 pm
No. 5, Terre Haute to Linton, leaves Terre Haute 10:20 a. m., arrives Linton 11:50 a. m.

No. 28 Mixed Train Northbound, leaves Westport 8:30 a. m., arrives Seymour 9:45 a. m., daily except Sunday.

No. 27 Mixed Train Southbound leaves Seymour 3:20 p. m., arrives at Westport 4:00 p. m., daily except Sunday.

For further information or time tables call on or write,

S. L. CHERY, G. A.,
Seymour, Ind.

J. T. AVERITT, G. P. A.,
B. & O. Station, Chicago, Ill.

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson IX. March 1

TRUSTING IN RICHES AND TRUSTING IN GOD. Luke 12:13-34.

Golden Text.—Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.—Luke 12:34.

In the last verse of the previous lesson He said, "The Holy Ghost shall teach you." On the last night that He was with them, ere He suffered, He said, "The Comforter, the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, He shall teach you all things. He will guide you into all truth. He will show you things to come. He shall testify of Me (John xiv, 26; xv, 26; xvi, 13), and many other things He said of the Spirit of Truth. But we are blind and deaf and so slow to perceive or hear spiritual things.

Well might He say of each of us, "I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted as a strange thing" (Hos. viii, 12). When He spoke of false teaching even the disciples thought He referred to bread for the body, and now here is a man, one of the company, so little impressed by the great truths of our last lesson and the solemn things of the future that he is more concerned about a bit of earthly property.

Is it not so still, and are not men, with rare exceptions, so occupied with things temporal that they can scarce find time to give a thought to things eternal? How weighty and heart searching the Master's words, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" (verse 15). Since "covetousness is idolatry" (Col. iii, 5), how much we need the words, "Having food and raiment, let us be therewith content," "Trust not in uncertain riches, but in the Living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (1 Tim. vi, 6, 8, 17).

How aptly and forcibly our Lord set forth the truth in the parable of the rich poor man who could only talk with himself about the smallness of his barns and the abundance of his fruits and his goods, and if he had larger barns what an easy, merry time he might have for many years to come. He seemed to have no thought of God, who had caused his ground to bring forth plentifully, nor of the poor, with whom he might share his goods. There was no one to be considered but himself. He knew nothing of the love of God and therefore had no love for God nor for his fellow men. "But God said unto him, 'Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee' (verse 20).

Now what were barns and fruits and goods to him? He had to leave all and went out of the world poor indeed, like the rich man of Luke xvi, 19-26. How often we read of one who died at his desk in the office or sitting in his home or taken by an accident, and the words come to mind, "Thy soul is required of thee," and the great question is, Was he saved? and then, Was he rich toward God? It is possible to be saved as by fire and have no rewards for service, no crowns to cast at his feet (1 Cor. iii, 11-15; Rev. iv, 10).

A true believer may still be so blinded by the god of this world as to fail to see the advantage of treasure in heaven and so lay up treasure for himself in this world which must all be left behind when he is called out of the world. From verse 22 He speaks to His disciples, truly saved men, all but Judas Iscariot (John xiii, 10, 11), and teaches them that since they are now children of God there is no room for anxiety about food or raiment. The kingdom is made sure to them (verse 32), and if they will now live to hasten its coming by living only unto God and winning souls to Him He will see that all things necessary for this life are given to them.

The teaching of verse 31 and Matt. vi, 33, is not that of seeking our souls' salvation, for the words were spoken to saved men, but it teaches saved people that as such their first aim in life should be the coming of the kingdom for which we pray when we say from the heart, "Our Father, who art in heaven, * * * Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as in heaven." There is no use talking of extending the kingdom, for there is no kingdom to extend. It was at hand when our Lord was here. In their very midst in the person of Himself, the King, but when they cried "We have no king but Caesar" and killed their Messiah they caused the kingdom to be postponed till He shall come again.

See carefully Luke xix, 11-15, Matt. xxi, 33; Acts iii, 20, 21. We are in the age between the postponement of the kingdom and its coming at the second coming of Christ, the mystery hid in God from the beginning of the world, but specially revealed to Paul (Eph. iii, 9-11; Rom. xvi, 25-27). Seeking the kingdom seems to me to mean "counting all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus our Lord" (Phil. iii, 8) and making the supreme object in all church life, social life and business life, to make known in all nations as quickly as possible His great salvation for "whosoever will" that His body, the church, may be completed, this age end and the kingdom come.

Thus we may learn restful lessons from the ravens and the lilies and become rich toward God. As one has said, "Make thou His service thy delight; He'll make thy wants His care." It is no part of His service to entertain or amuse people, but the one great thing is to save souls.

FARMERS ASKING ABOUT INCOME TAX

(Continued from page 3)

placing tools or machinery may also be deducted to the extent that the cost of the new articles does not exceed the value of the old. No deduction may be made for the cost of additional farm machinery, but credit may be allowed for the annual depreciation in the value of such machinery. For example, if a machine cost $100 and is regarded as good for ten years of service, the annual depreciation would be ten per cent, and a deduction of $10 each year could be made on this account, as part of the expense of operating the farm.

The expense of supporting the family, however, can not be deducted from the gross income. Among items for which credit is not allowed are expense for medical attendance, life insurance, insurance on dwelling, store accounts, family supplies, wages of domestic servants, and cost of board, room or house rent for family or personal use. In case an individual owns his residence he cannot deduct the estimated value of his rent. But a tenant operating a rented farm as proprietor may deduct the rent of the farm as a part of the expense of his business.

Farmers are not required to include in their income the produce taken from the farm and consumed by the family. Only produce sold off the farm is to be included. A farmer is not entitled to a deduction for his own labor, or for the expense of feeding live stock. He may, however, deduct such items as cost of fertilizer and other supplies and materials which are used up in the course of his operations.

The law provides that for the year 1913 the tax shall be computed only on the net income for the ten months from March 1st to December 31st, and that returns shall be made on the basis of five-sixths of the year. Therefore, if the net income for the last ten months of 1913 amounts to $2,500 or more a return on form 1040 is required. For the ten months of 1913 every single person is allowed $2,500 exemption and in the case of husband and wife, living together $3,333.33 exemption. In computing the net income for this period deductions should be made for only five-sixths of the amounts properly allowable for the whole year. Returns for 1913 must be made by March 1st, 1914.

Blanks for making returns for the income tax may be obtained from the collectors of internal revenue throughout the country, or from the Bureau of Internal Revenue of the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C. In case of failure on the part of any one who is subject to the tax to file the return by the first of March, the law fixes a penalty of 50 per cent. of the amount of the tax assessed and $10 to $1,000 fine. In case of false or fraudulent return there is a penalty of 100 per cent. and $20 to $2,000 fine and one year's imprisonment or both.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue is preparing regulations which may be obtained by interested persons on application to collector of Internal Revenue for the applicant's district.

Advertised List.

The following is a list of letters remaining in the postoffice at Seymour, Indiana, and if not called for within 14 days will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

LADIES.

Alice C. Brooks.
Mrs. Ada Calhoun.
Miss Grace Wilson.

MEN.

John Abdon.
H. M. Jackson.
Mr. Will Robinson.
Mr. H. A. Van Brunt.

EDWARD A. REMY,
Postmaster.

Republican Want Ads. Pay.

TELL BY THE BELL

On the front of every carton and on the label of every bottle of the GENUINE

DR. BELL'S PINE-TAR-HONEY

you will find the BELL in a circle.

Granny Metcalf, the sage of Western Kentucky, says: "Startin' right and stayin' right beats gettin' right." So, with these precautions, you know what to buy, and

"Tell By The Bell"

25c., 50c., $1.00, AT DRUG STORES.

Sold by Rucker's Drug Store.

MERRELL-SOULE

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT

"LIKE MOTHER-USED TO MAKE"

is sold in a carton package—not a can or a jar. It's clean, pure, rich, spicy. It's economical, convenient and above all, mighty good to eat. Get the habit. Serve a

None Such Pie

From your grocer

MERRELL-SOULE CO.
Syracuse, N. Y.
Makers of Food Products since 1868

The HOLLOW of HER HAND

GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

A WOMAN'S overpowering obsession for revenge upon the snobbish, aristocratic family of her murdered husband prompts her to shelter and protect the girl who had made her a widow so that she might finally drag down the family name by bringing about the marriage of her husband's brother with the girl who had taken a life with justification; thus, in lie the destinies of an exclusive family and a beautiful girl. Undoubtedly the best story ever written by the popular author of "Graustark," "Brewster's Millions," "Truxton King," and many other successful novels.

THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND

A story that is intensely dramatic with a plot unique beyond the ordinary.

Be sure to read it. Our coming serial!

BEST FOR THE HOME

STERLING MAZDA LAMPS

Also a Full Line of GAS MANTLES

Have Your Bicycle Cleaned and Repaired Now

W.A. Carter & Son

Agents for RACYCLE. Opposite Interurban Station

For Results

—USE—Republican Want Ads.

Was It Charity or Revenge

that prompted Sara Wrاندall to protect the beautiful young murderess of her husband? Read the new serial we have secured—

The Hollow of Her Hand

By GEO. BARR MCCUTCHEON

Author of "Graustark," "Brewster's Millions,"
"Truxton King," etc.

Conceded by the critics as the best story ever written by this popular author. You'll be interested in the startling novelty of the plot.

Get the Issue With the First Installment

The Valiants of Virginia

By Hallie Erminie
Rives
(Mrs. Post Wheeler)

Illustrated by Lauren Stott

CHAPTER XXXI.

The Evening of an Old Score.

Rat-tat-tat-tat!—Major Bristow's twenty-headed camphor-wood stick thumped on the great door of Damory court. The sound had a tang of impatience, for he had used the knocker more than once without result. Now he strode to the end of the porch and raised his voice in a stentorian bellow that brought Uncle Jefferson shuffling around the path from the kitchens with all the whites of his eyes showing.

"You dog-gone lazy rascal!" thundered the major. "What do you mean, sah, by keeping a gentleman cooling his heels on the door-step like a tax-collector? Where's your master?"

"Fo' de Lawd, Major, Ah ain't seen Mars' John sence dis mawnin'. Staht out aftah breakfas' en he nevah showed up ergin et all. Yo' reck'n whut de mattah, suh?" he added anxiously. "Peahs lak sumpin' preyin' on de mind. Don't seem er bit hese'f lately."

"H-m-m!" The major looked thoughtful. "Is't he well?"

"No, suh. Ain't er no mor'n er hum-min-budd dese las' few days. Jes' hangs eroun' lonesome lak. Don't laugh no mo', don't sing no mo'. Ain't play de planny sence de day aftah de ball. Me en Daph moght'ly pestered 'bout him."

"Pehaw!" said the major. "Touch of spring fever, I reckon. Aunt Daph feeds him too well. Give him less fried chicken and more ash-cake and buttermilk. Make him some juleps."

The old negro shook his head. "Moghty neah use up all dat mint-baid Ah foun'." he said, "but ain't do no good. Majah, Ah's sho' 'feahed sumpin' gwine happen."

"Nonsense!" the major sniffed. "What fool idea's got under your wool now? Been seeing Mad Anthony again, I'll bet a dollar."

Uncle Jefferson swallowed once or twice with seeming difficulty and turned the gravel with his toe. "Dat's so," he said gloomily. "Ah done see de old man de yuddah day 'bout et. Ant'y, he know! He see trouble er-comin' en trouble er-gwine. Dat same night de hoss-shoe drop offen de stable do', en dis ve'y mawnin' er buhd done fly inter de house. Das' er moghty bad hoodoo, er moghty bad hoodoo!"

"Shucks!" said the major. "You're as loony as old Anthony, with your infernal signs. If your Mars' John's been out all day I reckon he'll turn up before long. I'll wait for him a while." He started in, but paused on the threshold. "Did you say—ah—that mint was all gone, Unc' Jefferson?"

Uncle Jefferson's lips relaxed in a wide grin. "Ah reckon dah's er few stray sprigs lef', suh. Step in en mek yo'se'f et home. Ef Mars' John see yo', he be moght'ly hoped up. Ah gwine mix yo' dat julep in two shakes!"

He disappeared around the corner of the porch and the major strode into the hall, threw his gray slouch hat on the table, and sat down.

It was quiet and peaceful, that ancient hall. He fell to thinking of the many times, of old, when he had sat there. The house was the same again, now. It had waked from a thirty-years' slumber to a renewed prime. Only he had lived on meanwhile and now was old. He sighed.

How gay the place had been the night of the ball, with the lights and roses and music! He remembered what the doctor had said about Valiant and Shirley—it had lain ever since in his mind, a painful speculation. The recollection roused another thought from which he shrank. He stirred uneasily. What on earth kept that old rascal so long over that julep?

A slight noise made him turn his head. But nothing moved. Only a creak of the woodwork, he thought, and settled back again in his chair.

It was, in fact, a stealthy footfall he had heard. It came from the library, where a shabby figure crouched, listening, in the corner behind the tapestried screen—a man evilly clad, with a scarred cheek.

It had been with no good purpose that Greef King had dogged the major these last few days. He hugged a hot hatred grown to white heat in six years of prison labor within bleak walls at the clicking shoe-machine, or with the chain-gang on blazing or frosty turnpikes. He had slunk behind him that afternoon, creeping up the drive under cover of the bushes, and while the other talked with Uncle Jefferson, had skirted the house and entered from the farther side, through an open French window. Now as he peered from behind the screen, a poker, snatched from the fireplace, was in his hand. His furtive gaze fell upon a morocco-covered case on a commode by his side. He lifted its lid and his eyes narrowed as he saw that it held a pistol. He set down the poker noiselessly and took the weapon. He tilted it—it was rusted, but there were loads in the chambers. He crouched lower, with a whispered curse: the major was coming into the library, but not alone—the old nigger was with him!

Uncle Jefferson bore a tray with a frosted goblet over whose rim peeped green leaves and which spread abroad an ambrosial odor, which the major sniffed approvingly as the other set the burden on the desk at his elbow. "Majah," said the latter solemnly, "you reck'n Mars' John en Miss Shirley?"

"Good lord!" said the major, wheeling to the small ormolu clock on the desk. "It's most four o'clock. Haven't you any idea where he's gone?"

"No, suh, less'n he's gwine ter look ovah dem walnut trees. Whut Ah's gwine ter say—yo' reck'n Mars' John en Miss—"

"Walnut trees? Is he going to sell them?"

"Tree man come fom up norf' somehow ter se erbout et yistidday. Yas, suh. Yo' reck'n Mars' John en—"

"Nice pot of money tied up in that timber! He saw it right off. You're a lucky old rascal to have him for a master."

"Hyuh, hyuh!" agreed Uncle Jefferson. "Dam'y Co'ot er heap deppah dan drivin' er ol' stage ter de deep fer drummahs en lightnin'-rod agents. Ah sho' do pray de Good Man ter mek Mars' John happy," he added soberly, "but Ah's moght'ly 'sturbed in mah mind—moght'ly 'sturbed!"

The hidden watcher waited motionless. From where he stood he could look. He waited till through the pear window he saw the negro's bent figure disappear into the kitchens. Then he noiselessly lifted himself upright, and resting the pistol on the screen-top, took deliberate aim and pulled the trigger.

The hammer clicked sharply on the worthless thirty-year-old cartridge, and the major sprang around with an exclamation, as with an oath, the other dashed the screen aside and again pulled the trigger.

"You infernal murderer!" cried the major. It was all he said, for, as he swung his chair up, the one-time bully of Hell's-Half-Acre rushed in and struck him a single sledge-hammer blow with the clubbed pistol. It fell full on the major's temple and the heavy iron crashed through.

Greef King stood an instant breathing hard, then, without withdrawing his eyes from the prostrate form, his hand groped for the cold goblet and lifting it to his lips, drained it to its dregs. "There!" he said. "There's my six-years' debt paid in full, ye lily-livered, fancy-weskited hellion! Take that from the mayor of the Dome!"

There was a man's step on the gravel and the sudden bark of a dog. The pistol fell from his hand. He stole on tiptoe along the corridor and leaped through the French window. As he dashed across the lawn, a startled cry came from the house behind him.

No human eye had seen him, but he had been observed for all that. Run your best now, Greef King! Double and turn how you will, there is a swift Nemesis pursuing. It is only a dog, and not a big one at that, but it is of a faithful breed that knows neither fear nor quarter. Like white lightning, without a bark or growl, Chum launched himself on the fleeing quarry, and in the shadow of the trees his teeth met in the ragged trousers-leg.

Kicking, beating with his hands at the dragging weight, the man dashed on. Not till they had reached the hemlocks was that fierce grip broken, and then it was with a tearing of flesh and sinew. Panting, snarling with rage and pain, the man seized a fallen branch and stood at bay, striking out with vicious sweeping blows. But the bulldog, the hair bristling up on his neck, his red-rimmed eyes fiery, circled beyond reach of the flail, crouching for another spring.

Again he launched himself, and the man, dodging, blundered full-face into a thorn-bush. The sharp spines slashed his forehead and the starting blood blinded him, so that he ran without sense of direction—straight upon the declivity of Lovers' Leap.

He was tottering on its edge before he could stop, and then threw himself backward, clutching desperately at the slippery fern-covered rock, feeling his feet dangling over nothing. He dug his fingers into the yielding soil and with knee and elbow strove frenziedly to crawl to the path.

But the white bulldog was upon him. The clamping teeth met in the striving fingers, and with a scream of pain Greef King's hold let go and dog and man went down together.

Ten minutes later a motor was hurtling itself along the Red Road to the village. The doctor was in his office and no time was lost in the return. En route they passed Judge Chalmers driving, and seeing the flying haste, he turned his sweating pair and lashed them after the car.

So that when the major finally opened his eyes from the big leather couch, he looked on the faces of two of his oldest friends. Recollection and understanding seemed to come at once. "Well—Southall?"

The doctor's hand closed over the white one on the settee. He did not answer, but his chin was quivering and he was winking fast.

"How long?" asked the major after a lengthy minute.

"Maybe—maybe an hour, Bristow. Maybe not."

The major winced and shut his eyes, but when the doctor, reaching swiftly for a phial on the table, turned again, it was to find that look once more on him, now in yearning appeal. "Southall," he said, "send for Judith. I—I must see her. There's time."

The judge started up. "I'll bring her," he said, and his voice had all the tenderness of a woman's. "My carriage is at the door and with those horses she ought to be here in twenty minutes." He leaned over the couch.

"Bristow," he said, "would you—would you like me to send for the rector?"

The major smiled, a little wistfully, and shook his head. He lay silent for a while after the judge had gone out—he seemed housing his strength—while the ormolu clock on the desk ticked ominously on, and the doctor busied himself with the glasses beside him. Presently he said huskily:

"You've had a bad fall, Bristow. You were dizzy, I reckon."

"Dizzy!" echoed the major with feeble asperity. "It was Greef King."

"Greef King! Good God!"

"He was hiding behind the screen. He struck me with something. He swore at his trial he'd get me. I was—a fool not to have remembered his time was out."

A look, wolf-like and grim, had sprung into the doctor's face. His eyes searched the room, and he crossed the floor and picked up something from the rug. He looked at it a moment, then thrust it hastily into his breast pocket.

"I—remember now. It was a pistol. He snapped it twice, but it missed fire."

"He can't hide where we'll not find him!" The doctor spoke with low but terrible energy.

"Not that I care—myself," said the major diffidently. "But I reckon he'd better be settled with, or he'll—be killing some one worth while one of these days."

A big tear suddenly loosed itself from the doctor's eyelid and rolled down his cheek, and he turned hastily away.

"There's no call to feel bad," said the major gruffly. "I've sort of been a thorn-in-the-flesh to you, Southall. We always rowed, somehow, and yet—"

The doctor choked and cleared his throat.

"I reckon," the major murmured with a faint smile, "you won't get quite so much fun out of Chalmers—and the rest. They never did rise to you as I did."

A little later he asked for the restorative. "Ten minutes gone," he said then. "Chalmers ought to be at Rosewood by now. . . . what a fool way to go—like this. But it wasn't—apoplexy, Southall, anyway."

At the sound of wheels on the drive, Valiant went out quietly. Huddled in a corner of the hall were Uncle Jefferson and Aunt Daphne, with Jereboam, the major's body-servant. Aunt Daphne, her apron thrown over her face was rocking to and fro silently, and old Jereboam's head was bowed on his breast. Valiant went quickly to the rear of the hall. A painful embarrassment had come to him—a curious confusion mingling with a fastidious sense of shrinking. How should he meet this woman who recoiled from the very sight of his face? In the swiftness of the tragic event he had forgotten this. From the background he saw Judge Chalmers lift down the frail form, and suddenly his heart leaped. There were two feminine figures; Shirley was with her mother.

The doctor stood just inside the library door and Mrs. Dandridge went hastily toward him, her light cane tapping through the stricken silence. Jereboam lifted his head and looked at her piteously.

"Reck'n Mars' Monty cyan' see ole Jerry now," he quavered, "but yo'-all gib him mah love, Mis' Judith, and tell him—" His voice broke.

"Yes, yes, Jerry, I will."

The doctor closed the door upon her and came to where Shirley waited. "Come, my dear," he said, and dropped his arm about her. "Let us go out to the garden."

As they passed Valiant, she held out her hand to him. There was no word between them, but as his hand swallowed hers, his heart said to her, "I love you, I love you! No matter what is between us, I shall always love you!"

Suits, Coats and Furs Sacrificed

Every Remaining Suit, Coat, Fur and Skirt SLAUGHTERED as we carry nothing over

$15, $18, $20, $22 and $25

Suits to Cut $4.90

$12, $15, $18, $20
and $25

Coats to Cut $4.90

New Spring Dresses

Made of All Wool Serge in Blue and Black.....

$5.90

New Spring Waists

49c to $7.90

Alterations
Free

Seymour's New Ladies' Store

The Fashion
8 South Chestnut Street

Spring Sample Suits
Will sell $14.75
later up to 20.75

shed tears. But in some subtle way his voiceless greeting comforted and lightened by a little the weight of dumb impotence that he had borne.

In the library, lighted so brightly by the sunlight, yet grave with the hush of that solemn presence, the major looked into the face of the woman for whose coming he had waited so anxiously.

"It's all—up, Judith," he said faintly. "I've come to the jumping-off place."

She looked at him whitely. "Monty, Monty!" she cried. "Don't leave me this way! I always thought—"

He guessed what she would have said. "Heaven knows you're needed more than me, Judith. After all, I reckon when my time had to come I'd have chosen the quick way." His voice trailed off and he struggled for breath.

"Jerry's in the hall, Monty. He asked me to give you his love."

"Poor old nigger! He—used to tote me on his back when I was a little shaver." There was a silence. "Don't kneel, Judith," he said at length. "You will be so tired."

She rose obediently and drew up a chair. "Monty," she faltered tremulously, "shall I say a prayer? I've never prayed much—my prayers never seemed to get above the ceiling, somehow. But I'll—try."

He smiled wanly. "I wouldn't want any better than yours, Judith. But seems as if I'd been prayed over enough. I reckon God Almighty's like anybody else, and doesn't want to be dinged-donged all the time."

He seemed to have been gathering his resolution, and presently his hand fumbled over his breast. "My wallet; give it to me." She drew it from the pocket and the uncertain fingers took a key. "It opens a tin box in my trunk. There's—a letter in it for you."

He paused a moment, panting. "Judith," he said, "I've got to tell you, but it's mighty hard. The letter . . . it's one Valiant gave me for you—that morning, after the duel. I never gave it to you."

If she had been white before, she grew like marble now. Her slim fingers clutched the little cane till it rattled against the chair, and the lace at her throat shook with her breathing.

"Yes—Monty."

He lifted his hand with difficulty and put the key into hers. "The seal's still unbroken, Judith," he said, "but I've kept it these thirty years."

She was holding the key in her hands, looking down upon it. There was a strained half-fearful wonder in her face. For an instant she seemed quite to have forgotten him in the grip of some swift and painful emotion.

"I loved you, Judith!" he stammered in anguished appeal. "From the time we were boy and girl together, I loved you. You never cared for me—Sassoon and Valiant had the inside track. You might have loved me; but I had no chance with either of them. Then came the duel. There was only Valiant then. I overheard his promise to you that night, Judith. He had broken that! If you cared more for him than for Sassoon, you might have forgiven him, and I should have lost you! I didn't want you to call him back, Judith! I wanted my chance! And so—I took it. That's—the reason, dear. It's—it's a bad one, isn't it?"

A shiver went over her set face—like a breath of wind over tall grass, and she seemed to come back from an infinite distance to place and moment. Between the curtains a white butterfly hovered an instant, and in the yard she heard the sound of some winged thing fluttering. The thought darted to her that it was the sound of her own dead heart awaking. She looked at the key and all at once put a hand to her mouth as though to still words clamoring there.

"Judith," he said tremulously, between short struggles for breath, "all these years, after I found there was no chance for me, I reckon I've—prayed only one prayer. 'God, let it be Sassoon that she loved!' And I've prayed that mighty near every day. The thought that maybe it was Valiant has haunted me like a ghost. You never told—and I never dared ask you, Judith—"

Her face was still averted, and when she did not speak he turned his head from her on the pillow, with a breath that was almost a moan. She started, looking at him an instant in piteous hesitation, then swiftly kissed the little key and closed her hand tight upon it. Truth? She saw only the pillow and the graying face upon it! She threw herself on her knees by the love for him had rested unchanged, clear and defined as a mose in amber, wrapped in that mystery of silence.

In the little haircloth trunk back in her room lay an old scrap-book. It held a few leaves torn from letters and many newspaper clippings. From these she had known of his work, his marriage, the great commercial success for which his name had stood—the name that from the day of his going, she had so seldom taken upon her lips. Some of them had dealt with his habits and idiosyncrasies, hints of an altered personality, and aloofness or loneliness that had set him apart and made him, in a way, a stranger to those who should have known him best. Thus her mind had come to hold a double image: The grave man these shadowed forth, and the man she had loved, whose youthful face was in the locket she wore always on her breast. It was this face that was printed on her heart, and when John Valiant had stood before her on the porch at Rosewood, it had seemed to have risen, instinct, from that old grave.

He had not kept silence! He had written! It pealed through her brain like a muffled bell. But Beauty Valiant was gone with her youth; in the room near by lay that old companion who would never speak to her again, the life-long friend—who had really failed her thirty years ago!—and in a tin box a mile away lay a letter.

"He won't rouse again," the doctor had said, but a little later, as he and Valiant sat beside the couch, the major opened his eyes suddenly.

"Shirley," he whispered. "Where's Shirley?"

She was sitting on the porch just outside the open window, and when she entered, tears were on her face. The doctor drew back silently; but when Valiant would have done so, the major called him nearer.

"No," he panted; "I like to see you two together." His voice was very weak and tired.

As she leaned and touched his hand, he smiled whimsically. "It's mighty curious," he said, "but I can't get it out of my head that it's Beauty Valiant and Judith that I'm really talking to. Foolish—Isn't it?" But the idea seemed to master him, and presently he began to call Shirley by her mother's name. An odd paradoxical boyishness. His cheek tinged with color. The deep lines about his mouth smoothed miraculously out.

"Judith," he whispered, "—you—sure you told me the truth a while ago, when you said—you said—"

"Yes, yes," Shirley answered, putting her young arm under him, thinking only to soothe the anxiety that seemed vaguely to thread some vague hallucination.

He smiled again. "It makes it easier," he said. He looked at Valiant, his mind seeming to slip farther and farther away. "Beauty," he gasped, "you didn't go away after all, did you? I dreamed it—I reckon. It'll be—all right with you both."

He sighed peacefully, and his eyes turned to Shirley's and closed. "I'm—so glad," he muttered, "so glad I—didn't really do it, Judith. It would have—been the only—low-down thing—I—ever did."

The doctor went swiftly to the door and beckoned to Jereboam. "Come in now, Jerry," he said in a low voice, "quickly."

The old negro fell on his knees by the couch. "Mars' Monty!" he cried. "Is you' gwine away en leave ol' Jerry? Je yo'? Mars'?"

The cracked but loving voice struck across the void of the falling sense. For a last time the major opened his misting eyes.

"Jerry, you—black scoundrel!" he whispered, and Shirley felt his head grow heavier on her arm. "I reckon it's—about time—to me going—home!"

love for him had rested unchanged, clear and defined as a mose in amber, wrapped in that mystery of silence.

In the little haircloth trunk back in her room lay an old scrap-book. It held a few leaves torn from letters and many newspaper clippings. From these she had known of his work, his marriage, the great commercial success for which his name had stood—the name that from the day of his going, she had so seldom taken upon her lips. Some of them had dealt with his habits and idiosyncrasies, hints of an altered personality, and aloofness or loneliness that had set him apart and made him, in a way, a stranger to those who should have known him best. Thus her mind had come to hold a double image: The grave man these shadowed forth, and the man she had loved, whose youthful face was in the locket she wore always on her breast. It was this face that was printed on her heart, and when John Valiant had stood before her on the porch at Rosewood, it had seemed to have risen, instinct, from that old grave.

He had not kept silence! He had written! It pealed through her brain like a muffled bell. But Beauty Valiant was gone with her youth; in the room near by lay that old companion who would never speak to her again, the life-long friend—who had really failed her thirty years ago!—and in a tin box a mile away lay a letter.

"He won't rouse again," the doctor had said, but a little later, as he and Valiant sat beside the couch, the major opened his eyes suddenly.

"Shirley," he whispered. "Where's Shirley?"

She was sitting on the porch just outside the open window, and when she entered, tears were on her face. The doctor drew back silently; but when Valiant would have done so, the major called him nearer.

"No," he panted; "I like to see you two together." His voice was very weak and tired.

As she leaned and touched his hand, he smiled whimsically. "It's mighty curious," he said, "but I can't get it out of my head that it's Beauty Valiant and Judith that I'm really talking to. Foolish—Isn't it?" But the idea seemed to master him, and presently he began to call Shirley by her mother's name. An odd paradoxical boyishness. His cheek tinged with color. The deep lines about his mouth smoothed miraculously out.

"Judith," he whispered, "—you—sure you told me the truth a while ago, when you said—you said—"

"Yes, yes," Shirley answered, putting her young arm under him, thinking only to soothe the anxiety that seemed vaguely to thread some vague hallucination.

He smiled again. "It makes it easier," he said. He looked at Valiant, his mind seeming to slip farther and farther away. "Beauty," he gasped, "you didn't go away after all, did you? I dreamed it—I reckon. It'll be—all right with you both."

He sighed peacefully, and his eyes turned to Shirley's and closed. "I'm—so glad," he muttered, "so glad I—didn't really do it, Judith. It would have—been the only—low-down thing—I—ever did."

The doctor went swiftly to the door and beckoned to Jereboam. "Come in now, Jerry," he said in a low voice, "quickly."

The old negro fell on his knees by the couch. "Mars' Monty!" he cried. "Is you' gwine away en leave ol' Jerry? Je yo'? Mars'?"

The cracked but loving voice struck across the void of the falling sense. For a last time the major opened his misting eyes.

"Jerry, you—black scoundrel!" he whispered, and Shirley felt his head grow heavier on her arm. "I reckon it's—about time—to me going—home!"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

ALL STOPPED UP?

Think what is stopping it! Think of the germs and diseased tissues which poison every breath!

Here is the big point in the treatment by Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly. It purifies the air as it enters the nose, throat and mouth. Its action is simple, soothing and scientific. No harmful drugs. Guaranteed right and no price by a big free sample. See and be convinced—all druggists or direct.

Kondon Mfg. Co., Minneapolis, Minn.
KONDON'S
Catarrhal Jelly

Why Pay More for Your Shoes?

The Cut Price Boot Shop sells them for less, always

We Have Shoes For All Small and Large Feet

Here Are a Few of the Bargains Offered For Saturday

LADIES' SHOES.
$2.00 & $2.50 high cut, gummetal, box calf, & pat. colt, special	$1.69
$2.00 & $2.25 velvets, 14 button special	$1.69
$2.00 value, good wearing and comfortable, hand turned in button or lace, special	$1.69
MEN'S SHOES.
$2.00 & $2.25 solid leather work shoe, special	$1.48
$2.50 & $3.00 solid leather work shoe, special	$1.98
$2.50 value, nice up-to-date dress shoe, special	$1.98
$3.50 & $4.00 English walking shoe, tan or black, special	$2.69
CHILDREN'S SHOES.
$1.50 value in boys' and girls' shoes, special	98c
RUBBERS.
50c Ladies Rubbers for Saturday only, special	33c
$1.00 & $1.25 Men's Arctics, special	83c

Many other specials that lack of space prevents us from quoting.

Cut Price Boot Shop

SUCCESSORS TO JOHN A. ROSS.
L. PHILLIPS, Mgr.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

You Can Get What You Want Here

- WANTED—Men at once to learn the barber trade. Jobs always waiting. Better wages than you can earn without trade. Tools given. Few weeks complete. Drop a card for particulars. Moler Barber College, Indianapolis, Ind. f27d
- FOR SALE—A three light F. & P. Gasoline light system, in first class condition. Will sell cheap. Inquire at The Hub Clothing Store. f11d&wtf
- FOR SALE—Eggs. R. C. Rhode Island Reds. First pen $1 for 15. Second pen 50c. Geo. Hauenschild, Seymour. Phone 796-R. f28d&w
- FOR SALE—Remington, new No. 10. Like new liberal allowance on your old machine. J. H. EuDaly. f17dtf
- FOR SALE—One White Steamer truck. John C. Groub Co. f29d&W-tf
- FOR SALE—Good sleigh and bells. Phone 194. f27d
- FOR RENT—Furnished house. Rent reasonable. Mrs. J. M. Mack, 210 North Poplar. m4d
- FOR RENT—Modern seven room house. North Ewing. E. C. Bollinger. f2dtf
- 200 FARMS ABSOLUTELY FREE—We will give away free of charge and without restrictions as to improvement or settlement 200 farm tracts of from 5 to 40 acres in Palm Beach County, Florida. $1,000.00 an acre is often made on similar land from winter vegetables alone and fortunes in grape fruit and oranges. This is the land of three crops a year, below the frost line; 365 growing days. The last day for registration is April 30th, 1914. Low excursion rates March 3rd, 17th, April 7th and April 21st. Write for full particulars to Secretary, Chamber of Commerce, Lake Worth, Florida, or W. H. Burkley, Seymour, Ind. f27d
- NO HUNTING—Mushu signs 9x17 inches, for posting farms against hunting and trespassing, 5 cents each, 50 cents per dozen. Call at Republican office. d&wtf
- It pays to see Frank Franklin, before you sell your junk. No. 319 West Tipton street. Phone 659-R. m2d
- Calling Cards.
One hundred calling cards, single one, for 50c. Republican Office.
Republican Want Ads. Get Results.

COLD WEATHER "SNAPS" IN FOOTWEAR

Men's heavy work Shoes, $2.50 value	$1.49
Ladies' Shoes, odds and ends, size 3	98c
Misses Shoes, sizes 13 to 2	98c
Men's and Ladies' Shoes in all styles and sizes, this is our leader and a regular $2.50 value	$1.98
Ladies' Arctics	79c
Men's Arctics	98c

Philadelphia Bargain Store

"NEVER WITHOUT A BARGAIN."

KING GEORGE IS AN ARDENT FAN

England's Ruler Falls Right In Love With Baseball.

HE SEES A MIGHTY GOOD GAME

Contest in London, With the King in the Royal Box, Was on Mere Exhibition, but a Real-for-Sure Game Settled in the Eleventh Inning by a Home Run, and the King Enjoyed Every Moment of It.

London, Feb. 27.—Every American in London, including the lame and the halt, and King George and 40,000 of his subjects, saw the White Sox beat the Giants in an eleven-inning game at the Chelsea football grounds by the score of 5 to 4.

The game was not an exhibition affair, but a hard, earnest, clean struggle, which showed every phase of the American national pastime except a triple. It was significant of the English interest in the contest that not a single person left the ground until it was finished. The game held the attention of the spectators throughout and frequently a magnificent hit, a brilliant piece of fielding, some good base stealing or a double play aroused enthusiasm worthy of the strongest-lunged American rooter. The weather was ideal for the contest, being mild and fair.

The king arrived at the grounds promptly at 3 o'clock and was met by Walter H. Page, the American ambassador; Irwin Laughlin, the first secretary of the American embassy; Captain Symington, the American naval attaché, and Lieutenant George Squier, the military attaché, and escorted to the royal box. The multitude rose up and cheered while the two baseball teams lined up in front of the box and gave three rousing cheers for the king.

Ambassador Page then presented John J. McGraw, Charles A. Comiskey, James Callahan and Joseph Farrell to the king, who shook the hand of each man heartily, saying: "I am delighted to meet you and to have the pleasure of seeing the teams play."

The American ambassador then handed a new ball to the king, which the latter threw to Callahan, thus symbolically pitching the first ball. From that moment until Daly knocked his home run in the eleventh inning and won the game for the Sox, the king was intensely absorbed in the contest. Ambassador Page sat at his right and Secretary Laughlin at his left to keep the king posted on the plays. The king was a bear for information. He did not miss a single detail and insisted on every detail of the play being explained to him. But it was not necessary to explain anything to him twice, and by the end of the second inning he had grasped the rudiments of the game. The explanations of the game were first furnished to King George in conventional language, but it was not long before the ordinary terms of the diamond were employed and the king was glibly speaking like a real fan on the bleachers. His grasp and appreciation of the scientific side of the play was unfeignedly real. People who have seen King George on innumerable occasions say that they have never seen him enjoy himself more thoroughly, and there is no doubt that the expressions of enjoyment which he made to Mr. Page and Mr. McLaughlin were thoroughly genuine.

Through Ambassador Page King George sent to Comiskey and McGraw a message thanking them for the great pleasure he derived from witnessing such a magnificent game. There is little doubt that the king is sorry that the teams are to sail for home tomorrow, as this will prevent him from seeing another contest.

McGraw and Comiskey were themselves enthusiastic over the game. They said it was a first-class contest, just the kind to give the English an opportunity of passing judgment on the sport. Comiskey said: "This is the climax of our trip. We have had ovations everywhere, but to play such a game before such a crowd in the presence of the king of England will send every member of the teams home a happy man."

TERSE TELEGRAMS

William W. Ulerich, a member of the Pennsylvania legislature, hanged himself in a sanitarium at Pittsburg.

General Villa is preparing to leave Chihuahua for Torreon to direct the proposed rebel attack upon the federales.

Major General Joshua L. Chamberlain, sixty-eight, ex-governor of Maine and former president of Bowdoin college, is dead at Portland.

Twelve men were killed and eight others probably fatally injured in an explosion which destroyed a dye factory in a suburb of Berlin.

Carl Neidbalski, sixty years old, was struck and instantly killed by an engine on the Chicago, Indiana and Southern railroad at South Bend.

Officials of the state department deny that the United States has asked of President Huerta permission to send marines to Mexico City.

Negotiations between Chairman Elliott of the New Haven road and Attorney General McReynolds on a plan for the reorganization of the road have come to a practical standstill.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

AFTERNOON BRIDGE PARTY.

To the galaxy of delightful functions enjoyed by Seymour ladies this season, was added another yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. S. A. Barnes entertained with Auction Bridge, complimentary to a coterie of her Indianapolis friends. Invitations were issued a week ago, and since that time great pleasure has been anticipated, all having in mind the success of Mrs. Barnes' social affairs. The verdict is, that this was the best of all. The home guests presented themselves in stylish-toilettes and were given a gracious welcome by the hostess—she receiving alone. They were then introduced by Mrs. Frank Abele, Mrs. E. C. Bollinger, Mrs. C. B. Hagan, Miss Barick and Miss Ewing, to the charming Indianapolis ladies: Mrs. L. R. Mauzy, Mrs. Frank Achille, Mrs. Adolph Seidensticker, Mrs. W. Scott Denning, Mrs. Hillis Hackendorn, Mrs. J. F. Holderman and Miss Edna Heaton.

The rooms were fragrant with a wealth of spring posies that fairly glowed with pride at the exclamations of admiration which their beauty evoked, while the palms and ferns intermingled with vines, presented a scene of tropical loveliness.

Mrs. Barnes had the tally cards with her monogram embossed in pink, and pink tapers shed a soft glow over the many happy faces. The party had an ultra air in its start, and an epicurean atmosphere in its three course luncheon finish. There was grape fruit with luscious fresh strawberries. Then came veal loaf; peas and mushroom patties, salad, hot rolls and sweet pickles, and last frozen custard topped with Maraschino cherries, angel food cake, sweets of dainty pink rosebuds, and coffee, served on tables beautifully floured with baskets of spring beauties, tied with fluffings of pink tulle.

To each guest was given a nosegay of rosebuds, as a souvenir of a delightful afternoon. A bevy of Seymour's sweetest young girls had the honor of serving.

The following named ladies were present to meet Mrs. Barnes' friends from Indianapolis:

- |                   |                    |
|-------------------|--------------------|
| Mesdames:         |                    |
| Frank Abele,      | H. C. Johnson,     |
| Fred Abele,       | William Hyland,    |
| J. H. Andrews,    | Avis Handley,      |
| E. C. Bollinger,  | L. M. Jennings,    |
| Don C. Bollinger, | Haskell Lett,      |
| M. S. Blish,      | Price Matlock,     |
| T. S. Blish,      | Charles Resner,    |
| Jason B. Brown,   | J. J. Rottman,     |
| Earl Cox,         | E. A. Remy,        |
| H. S. Dell,       | Allen Swope,       |
| Lawrence Ebner,   | Harry S. Smith,    |
| Theodore Groub,   | K. Bruce Shields,  |
| John Groub,       | J. M. Shields,     |
| Tom Groub,        | Frank Spanager,    |
| W. B. Gallemore,  | O. O. Swails,      |
| C. B. Hagan,      | E. Blish Thompson, |
| Frank J. Voss,    | Charles Williams,  |

- |          |         |
|----------|---------|
| Misses:  |         |
| Barick,  | Ewing,  |
| Bennett, | Kyte,   |
| Brown,   | McGrew, |
| Davison, | Perry,  |

REBEKAHS ENTERTAINED.

The February social committee of the Seymour Rebekah Lodge No. 667 entertained the members Thursday evening in a most delightful manner. The program arranged consisted of a number of instrumental selections, vocal solos and recitations by some of the best talent of the city. The orchestra furnished music throughout the evening while the guests were being served in the dining room. The decorations in keeping with the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln and St. Valentine Day were prettily arranged. Hearts and hatchets in the color scheme of red predominated in the decorations and refreshments. The favors were candied cherries.

The program which was highly appreciated by those present was as follows:

- |                   |                       |
|-------------------|-----------------------|
| Musie             | Orchestra             |
| Vocal Solo        | Miss Faye Everhart    |
| Vocal Solo        | Miss Gertrude Robbins |
| Instrumental Solo | Miss Lora Reynolds    |
| Vocal Solo        | Leland Bridges        |
| Recitation        | Miss Marie Orr        |
| Vocal Solo        | Miss Lois Reynolds    |
| Recitation        | William Gast          |
| Vocal Solo        | Emerson Seward        |
| Vocal Solo        | Miss Josephine McCord |

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA.

A new lodge called the Daughters of America was organized here Thursday evening in the Court of Honor hall by two of the state officers, Mrs. Rose Unger and Mrs. Verda Lithe, of Marion. There were twenty-nine charter members and the prospects for its future prosperity are good. The order is an auxiliary of the Junior Order of Mechanics. In a few weeks they will take in a class of candidates.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

Mrs. W. H. Reynolds was hostess to the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church this afternoon at her home on West Second street.

INDIANA WOMAN THANKS MAYR REMEDY FOR STOMACH RELIEF

Mrs. Homer Sexton Tells Friends About Use of Wonderful Treatment.

Mrs. Homer Sexton, of Bloomington, Ind., suffered from digestive and stomach disorders for a long time. She tried to find relief, but it seemed a long way off—until she tried Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy.

The first dose gave her relief and started her on the way to health. She wrote:

"Your medicine did me a world of good. I have taken your treatment and believe it has cured me and I have told all my friends about it. I am ever so thankful."

Such words of praise come from users of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy all over the United States. It is quick and safe. The first dose convinces—no long treatment.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Go to C. E. Loertz' drug store and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS.

Miss Bessie Downing is seriously ill at the home of her parents on Pine street.

Mrs. Mary Steele, who has been ill since last summer from a stroke of paralysis, is not so well.

Mrs. George Bender, who has been sick for the past two weeks at the home of her parents, was not so well today.

Motorman Clyde Harold, of the I. C. & S. Traction Company, is seriously ill at Greenwood with the small pox.

Oscar Shepard, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shepard, has been sick all week at his home on West Fourth street.

Mrs. Frances Mayer, of Louisville, came Thursday evening on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Martha Humes and will visit Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Eldridge and other relatives.

John Croucher, of Medora, fell on the ice at his home Thursday fracturing his collar bone and receiving other injuries. Owing to his advanced age of sixty years, the injury is considered quite serious.

Mrs. Calla Vayhinger, state president of the W. C. T. U., will be on the program for the county convention to be held in Seymour next April. The local Union is greatly pleased with the prospect of hearing Mrs. Vayhinger.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottle at all drug stores. f28

Weather Indications.

FOR INDIANA: Unsettled tonight and Saturday. Probably snow north; rain south portion; warmer tonight.

Business Getters, "Republican Classified Ads."

Seymour Temperatures.

The following are the maximum and minimum temperatures as shown by the government thermometers at the Seymour volunteer weather observation station and reported by J. Thos. Hays, observer. The figures are for twenty-four hours ending at noon:

	Max.	Min.
February 27, 1914	44	22

WASHINGS DONE

ON THE 1900 ELECTRIC WASHER are satisfactory. 30 days FREE trial. Sold on EASY PAYMENTS. Ask us.

NEAL ELECTRIC CO.

EVERETT KEMP, INTERPRETER.

brought forth more hearty and sincere applause. Few audiences are more critical.

Lyceumite and Talent magazine printed an entire page in February, 1912, on Mr. Kemp as the "Man With the Million Dollar Laugh" and referred to him as a permanent headliner.

Speaking of Mr. Kemp's laugh, it may be said that he is a natural born comedian and brings to his audiences that rare treat, pure fun. His humor is delicious. But he is not always laughing and making others laugh. His fine sympathetic nature, wide versatility and keen perception enables him to interpret the more serious side of life in a way to delight the popular as well as literary audience.

To meet Mr. Kemp is to be impressed that he has a consuming purpose.

MR. MEYER SAID HE'S GOIN'
TO CALL THIS FILM,
"TRACKING SLIM JIM ACROSS TH' WASTES OF SIBERIA"

DAILY REPUBLICAN

SEYMOUR, IND., SATURDAY

FEBRUARY, 28, 1914

GHOSTS ? HA-HA !! WHY IT WAS ONLY SLIM !

LOOKS LIKE A DUTCH FLEA HOUND

MEN, THERE'S A DOG
THAT'D TRACK A MAN
THROUGH A SEA OF MOLASSES

HAW-HAW!
TH' FORCE MUST THINK
I'M UNCLE TOM. WELL
THIS RED PEPPER OUGHT TO SHARPEN THAT CUR'S SMELLER A LITTLE

SH-H-H, MEN!!
LOOKA THAT, HE'S GOT SLIM'S SCENT ALREADY!

HOW WHAT IN TARNATION'S TH'
MATTER WITH THA DOG? HE SEEMED TO GIT IT RIGHT HERE.

KER-CHOO
AH-A-CHOO!!

AH-A-CHOO!
THAD'S SUB OR SLIB'S WORG-AH-A-

AH-A-CHOO

WESD YOU WAID
TILL I GED THAD
SLIB, THAD'S ALL-
AH-A-A-CHOO!!

LOOKA THAT D
HE'S ON SLIM'S
SCENT AGIN

D'YOU THINK I'LL LET THAT PESKY
SCALAWAG GIT AWAY WITH UH INSULT LIKE THAT? WHY—

WE'LL SOON HAVE OUR HANDS ON THAT SKWIB

HAR-HAR!

FER UH SNOW MAN
THAT'S UH PURTY
GOOD LIKENESS
CAP

OH-O-O-O!!
TIS- THE-GHOST-OF-SLIM-JIM-THAT-SPEAKS!

HAW-HAW!

HEL-L-P, GHOS

Clumsy Claude—Wasn't at School Today

Mrs. Timekiller—The House Was Too Upset for Hubby

